

Southern States Scored Business Gains in March

Federal Reserve Bank Report Reveals Distinct Progress, Despite Unfavorable Weather.

PEACH CROP IS 59 PER CENT NORMAL

Retail Trade Continues To Mount, With March Figures Being 9.1% Higher Than Year Ago.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS. Notwithstanding continued unseasonable weather, business conditions in the six southern states comprising the sixth federal reserve district showed distinct gains in nearly every phase during the month of March, according to the monthly report of the Federal Reserve bank of Atlanta, issued Thursday.

While weather conditions have been generally unsatisfactory, the report says, and although the Georgia peach crop and other agricultural yields suffered considerably from the low temperatures, making replanting necessary in many instances, retail trade, wholesale trade, building permits, banking transactions, including savings deposits and cotton spindle activity all showed increases over previous months.

In the retail trade business the report reviews the first three months of 1926 as being in appreciable advance of figures for the same period in 1925. The current volume of sales by department stores in the district continues to mount, it was said, March figures this year being 9.1 per cent higher than a year ago. The March increase over February statistics in the retail trade, it is shown, amounted to 9.7 per cent this year.

Greater Than Year Ago. The volume of sales in March reported by 135 wholesale firms throughout the district was in the aggregate greater than for the preceding month or the corresponding month (March) a year ago, the report continues. Of the eight lines of trade covered by these figures for March, increases over February were shown in all but hardware, and March hardware sales were less than one per cent below those in February.

March reports for 37 wholesale grocery firms showed a volume of sales in the aggregate 12.6 per cent greater than in February and 10.5 per cent greater than March, 1925. Wholesale business in this line showed an increase over February in Atlanta, Jacksonville, Meridian, New Orleans, Vicksburg, and a few other cities.

Good sales during March were reported by 24 wholesale firms as being 9.3 per cent greater than in the preceding month, but were 4.1 per cent smaller than in March last year. Increases, the report says, occurred at all reporting points over the month of February, including Atlanta, Jacksonville, Nashville and New Orleans.

Wholesale hardware sales during March were given as three-tenths of one per cent smaller than sales during February—the one outstanding exception of a March decrease as compared with February.

Furniture sold by wholesale firms in the district, as reported, was 10.4 per cent greater in volume than in February, but 3.7 per cent less than in March, 1925.

Wholesale sales of electrical supplies in March were 1.5 per cent greater than in February, and 88.2 per cent greater than in March last year.

Wholesale shoe, stationery and drug sales reports for March showed substantial increases over the February statistics.

Weather Less Favorable. Nineteen twenty-six weather thus far has been less favorable than that of 1925, the report adds, and in Georgia early white potatoes and other truck crops suffered backsets from the cold in March. However, the reports from the six states—Georgia, Alabama, Tennessee, Florida, Mississippi and

WILKINS IS SAFE AT POINT BARROW, FAIRBANKS HEARS

BY EARL J. JOHNSON. Chicago, April 29.—The war to end war in gangland has taken a new turn with the receipt of a death threat by State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe.

It now appears that the machine-gun murder of Crowe's young assistant, William H. McSwiggin, the "hanging prosecutor," was premeditated instead of merely incidental to the fight for supremacy between rival factions of beer runners.

If this is borne out by further investigation the whole fabric of the state's theory of the killing may have to be reworked.

Letter Is Unsigned. "You will be the next to go because we're going to get your scalp," the unsigned letter informed Crowe, apparently referring to the McSwiggin murder, and indicating this outrage was only the first flourish in a campaign of gangland retribution against the law.

Crowe's answer to the challenge was to order 200 more policemen into Cicero, the west side gang haunt, with orders to comb every building in their hunt for Scarface Al Caponi and Johnny Torrio, the two habitués of handiwork and beer.

Coroner Oscar Wolff is determined that his jury shall not be intimidated or terrorized by any of the gang tactics which have been used in similar hearings of Sicilian murder cases.

One inquest witness was murdered here this winter while testifying and there have been numerous instances of citizens refusing to sit on juries or to testify because of the fear of gang vengeance.

The machine gun that was used in the McSwiggin-Doherty-Duffy murder is believed to have been bought at one of the "valley" gun stores by agents of Caponi. A week before the triple slaying the front of a beauty parlor where a prominent beer runner was believed to be having his nails manicured, was peppered with machine gun bullets fired from a passing automobile. It may have been the same car and the same machine gun used in the latest flare up.

Johnny Torrio and Scarface Al Caponi are the twin kings of commercialized crime in Cook county. They are the men back of the actual gunmen who commit the murders for the Sicilians.

Opposed to Torrio and Caponi are the Irish interests which have been gaining in power. The Irish include the McCarthys, O'Donnells, Dohertys, Duffys, Druggans and McElenes.

It is this bitter rivalry between these two factions that has brought on the amazing killings with machine guns and sawed-off shotguns such as that in which McSwiggin fell.

With Irish Leaders. He was in the company of Irish leaders and when the Sicilian death car came along its occupants are believed to have seen an opportunity of exterminating a lawful enemy and outlaw enemies with the same volley of bullets.

Torrio and Caponi are the organizers, the directors, the fixers and the brains of the Sicilian beer trade. Torrio is absolute in the field of vice and gambling and Caponi gives his attention almost exclusively to rum running and gun play.

Girl Arrested For Laughing At Policeman

Five Lawyers Offer Her Their Services and Magistrate Dismisses Case.

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.) New York, April 29.—Five prominent Brooklyn attorneys sprang up to offer their services to Benjamin Calibean, 16-year-old Brooklyn school girl, who was arrested last week for laughing at Policeman James Conlon. A few moments later the girl who had been held in $300 bail last week by Magistrate Hirschfeld on a charge of disorderly conduct, was dismissed by Magistrate James Golden.

Miss Calibean was arrested and taken to the station house in a patrol wagon after she had laughed at the irate Conlon in pursuit of a small boy on a bicycle who had applied the tip of his thumb to the point of his nose and waved the remaining four fingers in the officer's direction. Conlon, who failed to catch the gesticulating malefactor, took offense at the mirth of Miss Calibean and her two girl friends and ordered them to move on. She refused and he placed her under arrest.

The magistrate severely rebuked Conlon.

COOLIDGE FAVORS NEW SETTLEMENT

Six Fire Companies Called To Fight Blazing Edifice in Downtown Business Section.

ENTIRE BUILDING IS THREATENED

City Clubhouse To Be Moved June 1 to Hand-some Home on Carnegie Way.

Fire sweeping from the top floor of the Atlanta Athletic club building, 37 Auburn avenue, early today threatened to destroy the entire structure. Club officials declared that the loss would total as much as $10,000.

Six fire companies of the downtown area fought the blazing building under direction of Chief W. B. Cody in a desperate effort to quench flames before they ignited adjoining buildings.

Dozens of operators in the neighboring Ivy exchange of the telephone company watched the progress of the flames two doors away, but stuck to their posts. They decided they would not leave their switchboard until the fire reached the exchange.

The club in short time is to move to its new quarters on Carnegie way, at the site of the old Lyric theater. The present building will be occupied by the Atlanta Y. W. C. A.

Fire officials declared the blaze, originated from the kitchen. The loss, estimated at at least $10,000, was caused, they say, by smoke and water damage to the club's furnishings and equipment, although considerable damage was done to the roof by the blaze.

After fighting for more than an hour, fire officials announced the flames were confined to the club building. Aside from water damage, the loss was confined to the second and third floors.

Despite the fact that the discovery was made just after midnight, when the alarm was sounded all employees and members hurried out of the building and escaped injury.

Club members are erecting on Carnegie way, on the site formerly occupied by the old Lyric theater, a new and handsome building, complete with spacious clubrooms and modern equipment. Several weeks will be required for its completion.

This is the third fire to break out in Atlanta Athletic club buildings in the past year. The first, the Lyric country club was practically destroyed in 1914 and on November 22, last, flames of undetermined origin gutted the new East Lake club building causing a loss of about $150,000. In the latter fire four men narrowly escaped being burned to death and trophies of Bobby Jones, Atlanta's crack golfing champion, valued at more than $10,000, were destroyed. The fire was spectacular and firemen fought desperately for several hours without success.

Since the second fire destroyed the country clubhouse, that building has been ordered reconstructed. This new country home of the club is now in process of erection, while members using the country clubhouse are occupying temporary quarters in the boat-house at East Lake. The new country clubhouse will be ready about July 4.

FATHER ACCUSED BY HIS CHILDREN OF SLAYING WIFE

McCook, Neb., April 29.—(P)—Children of Bert M. Davis, former Beaver City (Neb.) stock man, who is charged with poisoning his first wife so he could remarry, testified against their father today.

Fern Davis, 27, who with her brother, Glenn, 20, is aligned against her father, tonight on the stand told that she had conversed with him for a long time yesterday, the first time since his arrest.

Neither gave testimony of direct importance, although Glenn was used to combat the defense contention that Mrs. Davis was a suicide.

YOUNG FARMER ARRAIGNED TODAY IN EVANS MURDER

Paris, Tenn., April 29.—(P)—Investigation of the slaying of Thomas Evans, law enforcement campaigner, charged with murder in connection with the killing of Evans, who was shot to death in the Henry county "bottom lands" April 18.

Martin will be taken before a magistrate tomorrow to plead to a warrant charging him with the slaying. It was not known tonight whether he will waive arraignment or demand a hearing. It was announced, however, that no special court term would be called and that court action, beyond the preliminary hearing, would await the convening of the grand jury in regular session in July.

The New Home

To those who are not already provided with a home that epitomizes their idea of complete comfort, Spring brings the desire for a change.

Some desire a house with a lawn and garden, others want a larger or smaller apartment with all modern conveniences.

Those who have attempted to search the city and suburbs for their idea of a home by riding around in an auto, know the futility of this plan. But those who first read the advertisements in The Constitution quickly find what they desire.

Button Gwinnett's Name Found Signed To Old Papers

SAME GEORGIAN WHO SIGNED DECLARATION

Another signature of Button Gwinnett, famous as one of the three Georgians who signed the Declaration of Independence, was discovered Thursday.

Miss Ruth Blair, stat. historian, in examining an old volume, dated from 1772, discovered the newest Gwinnett signature. Inasmuch as the last authentic signature of the famous old Georgian sold, a few days ago, in New York for $22,500, Miss Blair's discovery is one of considerable financial value to the state, aside from its historical and sentimental significance.

Incidentally, Miss Blair disclosed also that George M. Napier, attorney general of the state, has started legal proceedings to recover, for the state of Georgia, the Gwinnett signature sold in New York. It was attached, as a witness to a will, and it is legally incontrovertible that original will, after they have been probated, are the property of the state. The case instituted by Mr. Napier has been placed in the hands of New York attorneys. It is therefore possible that the purchasers who paid $22,500 for the signature may have to return the complete document to this state. The purchaser was a Mr. Rosenbach, representing the Rosenbach galleries of New York.

The signature discovered by Miss Blair Thursday is beyond question authentic. The reason it has never been found before is because the confirmation of land grant to which it is appended is in another man's name. Evidently the actual grantee was unable to write, for the signature reads "Button Gwinnett for John Barber." The item is dated June 30, 1767. It is indexed in the volume under the name of John Barber; hence the failure to find it.

Aged Riffian Runs 70 Miles In 12 Hours

Carries Message From Krim "No Peace Without Autonomy."

Oujda, French Morocco, April 29.—(P)—Carrying a dispatch nearly 70 miles, which distance he said he had made on foot from sunset to sunrise, Hammouch Ben Hodge, 67-year-old Riffian warrior, was hailed here today as the creator of a new marathon record.

Panting from his prolonged exertion, the aged courier reached the gates of Oujda at daybreak today and ran up to the French sentry.

"Please direct me to the house of the Riffian delegation," he said. "Allah is great."

The sentry directed him to the house occupied by Si Mohammed Azerkane, the Riffian "foreign minister," where Hodge delivered his message: "No peace without autonomy."

Big Anniversary Pageant Of M. Rich & Brothers To Be Presented Tonight

Fifty-Ninth Anniversary of Founding of Mammoth Store Will Be Depicted.

BY PAUL STEVENSON.

Atlanta will have an opportunity at the auditorium at 8:15 o'clock tonight to enjoy one of the most pleasing amusement productions offered in Atlanta this year when employees of M. Rich & Brothers Co. present a birthday pageant with 200 people in the cast in observance of the 59th anniversary of the establishment of this big institution in Atlanta.

With special costumes provided for each number; with a special musical score and a special orchestra and with 200 taking part, the pageant promises to be one of the most complete productions of any kind presented here this year, according to statements of those who have witnessed the final dress rehearsals.

The pageant was directed by Miss Olive Jackson, of New York, who has directed some of the biggest pageants ever produced in this country, while the musical program will be under the direction of Signor Emilio Volpi, of Atlanta. Employees have been at work for weeks perfecting the show and those who have seen rehearsals are enthusiastic in pronouncing it one of the most entertaining attractions of its kind seen here in any theater in this section in many months.

In the pageant the story of the progress of M. Rich & Brothers Co.

from 1867 to the present will be told in a series of five episodes, with a prologue. In the prologue will be shown Atlanta at the end of the war between the states when soldiers were on their way home after the end of this struggle. The first episode shows the first Rich store in Atlanta, the customs of the day and the songs of 1867.

The next episode shows the Rich store in 1880 and the manners and customs of that day, the costumes worn by the people and the dances of that day will be presented. The third episode shows the Rich store of 1896 and the customs and dances of that period. The fourth episode shows the present Rich store with the modern songs and dances. Episode five is a symbolic presentation which introduces the entire company of 200 in spectacular scenes.

Elaborate Scenery.

Special scenery has been prepared for the production and several hundred special costumes will be worn. The Rich Mandolin club and the Rich Glee club will appear in musical numbers while a group of pretty dancers from the Rich organization will present a classical dance at the finale.

In the last episode each department of the Rich store will be represented by a girl wearing a special costume relating to that department. Another feature of the final scene will be a fashion show staged by girls from the Rich store. In the last act nearly 200 people are on the stage at the same time. The pageant closes with the anniversary song written by Mrs. Louise Gloor and "Dixie," sung by the entire company with the audience joining in the chorus.

Rich employees are presenting this attraction free, out of courtesy to the people of Atlanta. The employees initiated the project and have had full charge of all arrangements in producing the pageant.

4-YEAR-OLD TOT KILLED BY AUTO NEAR FT. VALLEY

Fort Valley, Ga., April 29.—(AP)—Warren Bowlen, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Bowlen, was fatally injured late this afternoon when he ran in front of an automobile driven by Charles J. Pelt, Jr., of Macon. The child died a few minutes later.

The accident happened on the road to Macon, a short distance from this city. Witnesses said the accident was unavoidable. Doctors found that the child sustained a broken left arm and his left side was crushed.

New Americus Park.

Americus, Ga., April 29.—(Special.)—"Lake Oconee" is the name selected for the new recreation park and week-end resort being constructed by S. S. Thomas on the Liberty road near Americus. A committee selected the name, which means "a body of water in a garden or forest," the name having been suggested by Miss Ira Greenwood, of Americus.

The new resort, it is expected, will be completed and ready for use about the middle of May.

'Queen Quality' Trade Mark Represented in Costume

MISS ARMENDA NATIONS.

Costly gown of Queen Louise style, representing trade-mark of Queen Quality shoes, will be seen in Rich birthday pageant.

Miss Armenda Nations, shown here, is wearing one of the gorgeous costumes to be seen tonight as a feature of the M. Rich & Brothers' anniversary pageant. Miss Nations is representing Queen Louise, the trade mark of the popular Queen Quality shoes.

The costume was made especially for the pageant at a cost of several hundred dollars by the Thomas G. Plant company of Boston, makers of these famous women's shoes, which are handled exclusively in Atlanta at Rich's.

The gown is of heavy regal white satin, with gold brocade and six-foot train, set off with a sash of royal pink which drops from the waist. The robe is of purple velvet with collar and trim of genuine ermine fur. The crown is of gold set with rhinestones, and the slippers gold to match.

Many have thought it odd that this beautiful queen of history always wore a white scarf draped around her neck. This pretty ruler had a small scar on the left side of the throat, which always occasioned her much embarrassment, and to conceal this she wore the snow-white scarf draped about the head and neck. Never was she seen without it, and "Queen Quality," in adopting this beautiful queen as a symbol, have taken the white scarf, too.

Labor Journal Commends Constitution Editorial

The Atlanta Journal of Labor, of which Jerome Jones is editor, and which is the official organ of the Atlanta Federation of Trades, carries in its current issue strong editorial comment on The Constitution's recent editorial "School Politics Again."

Under the caption "When Will It

Change?" the editorial follows: "The editorial of The Constitution, 'School Politics Again,' reprinted here, is so plain and pointed that to add thereto would be but to repeat. 'We congratulate The Constitution on its bold, clear-cut exposure of the true motive behind the pending change in the rules of the board of education giving the board power to select assistants to the superintendent over his head. The Constitution is steadily and constantly fought for a school system free from politics, prejudice or personal animosities. And that paper may be assured that the people of Atlanta are not unappreciative of its efforts. Nor will they be unresponsive to its suggestions in this instance.'

"We do not know how or where these proposed rules originated. If there are any members who favor them they are either blinded by personal feelings, influenced by irresponsible parties or else utterly lacking in knowledge of the principles that guide any organization.

Flays Suggestions.

"Ordinarily we would not interfere in the internal affairs of the board. Nor would our contemporary, The Constitution, we are sure. But whenever a proposal is made that is so utterly repugnant to all sound principles of business administration that it is so maliciously threatening in its implications and that so flagrantly violates the ethics of labor organization, we cannot refrain from this protest against outraged common sense. We have in these columns called attention to their good work and defended them against adverse criticism. But a single vote for this proposal would be a keen disappointment to us and to organized labor.

"How often, we ask, are such pernicious efforts to pull down the public school system and throw it into the quagmire of politics to be made? And how long must they be endured? We have a board member representing that he or she feels free to seek the satisfaction of his or her own motives or impulses in the exercise of his or her duties of public interest? The people are beginning to ask. They want to know.

"The Constitution very properly calls upon the parents to take note of this dangerous innovation and stand on guard to protect their schools from its perils. There is another group who should be interested in this proposition. We speak of the Teachers' association. As teachers the individual members of that body have or should have a standard or code of professional ethics; as a body affiliated with organized labor they certainly must recognize the ethics of union labor. These ethics establish very definitely channels of authority and places of responsibility and insist on a strict observance of these throughout the organization. To a union man nothing is more serious than failure on the part of a fellow member to observe the ethics of his union.

Challenges Union.

"In our opinion, the Teachers' association faces two serious challenges. First, the preservation of their own professional ethics against violations by individual members, and, second, a very bold effort to overthrow all that the association has achieved. This is not a fight against an individual. Rules cannot be established nor policies formulated to fit any single person. Teachers, we fear, have suffered too long already for thinking in terms of members and to the public whom they serve. In justice to both, it cannot remain silent.

"Year after year the school system is thrown into confusion. Conflicting forces make it impossible for teacher and pupil to concentrate on school work. The association itself should join the parents in putting a stop to such wranglings."

Politely Refuse

substitutes if you seek the famous Quaker
flavor

THE point to remember when buying breakfast oats is that only Quaker Oats have the rich Quaker flavor that you want.

One package of oats without that flavor may spoil your breakfasts for a week.

The price you pay is the same. Thus "trying" a substitute is a folly. Quaker flavor is the result of some 50 years milling experience. No other oats has it. Quaker milling, too, retains much of the "bulk" of oats. And that makes laxatives less often needed.

Get Quick Quaker, which cooks in 3 to 5 minutes, or regular Quaker Oats as you have always known.

Your grocer has both kinds.

USE CITY CREDIT, ADVICE OF HOWELL

Civic projects costing ten million dollars or more should not be considered undertakings too large for Atlanta, Clark Howell, editor of The Constitution, told members of the Atlanta Improvement association at a meeting held Thursday afternoon at M. Rich & Brothers company, where he had been invited to make a talk.

"Ten years ago," said Mr. Howell in his speech, "Atlanta was proud of being a 'million dollar city.' Today it is a ten million dollar city when it comes to financing civic improvements. We ought never to hesitate in undertaking anything for the good of the city just because it will cost a few millions."

Mr. Howell urged prompt action in the movement for acquiring a site for community center, bounded by Pryor, East Mitchell, Capitol avenue and East Hunter street, to include the capitol, courthouse, the new city hall, a new postoffice and such other public buildings as would be planned.

Recalls Old Days.

He also advocated an active campaign for the improvement and enhancement of property values on the south side, declaring that every citizen is interested in the welfare of all parts of the city. He recalled the days when Washington street, Capitol avenue, Dawson street and other south side thoroughfares were the most beautiful residential centers in the city.

Referring to the passage of the $8,000,000 bond issue at the recent election, Mr. Howell characterized this as the greatest step for the good of the city in many years, but said it was only a short step in the right direction compared to what might be achieved. He said that never before have the eyes of the outside world been turned to Atlanta and Georgia as they are today and that outsiders used a larger measuring stick in their appraisal of the city than Atlantans themselves do.

"What Atlanta needs is the active interest of such a group of men as this," said Mr. Howell, "constantly working for the betterment and improvement of the city."

Mr. Howell commended the plans now under way for widening and repaving of Washington street and Capitol avenue. "I am one of that group," he said, "who believes that a city should use its credit up to the limit of its bonding capacity for civic improvements. He then cited the bond issue passed a few years ago, which provided $4,000,000 for new school buildings and the funds for building the Spring street viaduct. "If we had not passed that issue, Atlanta's school system would have miserably failed five years ago," he said.

Refers to Negroes.

Mr. Howell recommended that prompt steps be taken to clean up some of the negro residential sections of the city, stating that the shacks in which some of the colored population are compelled to live are a disgrace to any civilized community. He pointed out that the two races are constantly in enforced contact, that the white people's clothes are washed in many of the negro homes, that the nurses and cooks come from those homes. He warned against the possibility of an outbreak of disease originating in these sections and said that "disease germs know no color line."

Mr. Howell referred to the tremendous development of North Georgia in recent months in the textile industry, to her leading position as a distribution point for business and commerce, and to her strategic position, within one night's run of both New Orleans and Norfolk and all intervening ports.

Ed Meyer was in the chair at the meeting, which was the first of what is expected to develop into regular monthly meetings of the board of directors of the association. This organization has for its object the advancement of any project for the good of the city. The organization is particularly interested at this time in the plan to extend Broad street, on the south side of the city, and the proposed extension of Courtland street on the north side.

Suits For Damages Filed Will Involve Almost $100,000 Sum

Damage suits amounting to nearly $100,000 were filed Thursday afternoon in Fulton county superior court, the Southern railway being named defendant in a $40,000 suit.

Mrs. Annie Veal, plaintiff in the Southern railway suit, asked for $40,000 for the death of her husband, which the petition claimed, was responsible because of negligence of the railroad. Her husband, Virgil A. Veal, was killed February 24, while on duty as car inspector at the North avenue yard.

The petition claimed that he was at his post of duty when a switch engine ran a string of box cars onto cars between which he was working, striking him with such force as to cause immediate death. In addition to his widow, he was survived by six minor children. The suit was filed by Hewlett & Deans, law firm.

Mrs. J. C. Davis filed suit for $25,000 for injuries alleged to have been received when she was struck down at Deastur street and Piedmont avenue last January 11 by a truck belonging to the Southeastern Bonded Warehouse.

The suit set forth that Mrs. Davis received permanent injuries, including a concussion and fracture of the skull and minor bruises and cuts. Her husband filed suit for $5,000

Markowitz Arrested.

Arrest of M. Markowitz, indicted March 23 on four counts of passing fictitious checks, was reported to Solicitor General John A. Boykin, of the Fulton superior court, Thursday by New York authorities.

Markowitz is alleged to have opened a checking account with an Atlanta bank through fictitious checks amounting to more than $5,000 and later drew a sum of $2,100 before being discovered. It is expected that requisition papers will be drawn later. His bond was fixed at $10,000.

If I lived in the suburbs

I'd get me a good, long-range flashlight. I'd use it to investigate night noises. Why, I could stand at my bedroom window and flash its long, bright beam all over the place!

I'd use it around the garage; to light guests out the driveway at night; to light my path from the station on dark, still nights. Oh, I'd have hundreds of uses for a good flashlight in the suburbs.

My flashlight would be a genuine Eveready too. And I don't mean "perhaps"! (adv.)

bill, $4,774,550 being reserved for contingencies.

Funds are allotted to continue work on 252 projects, already authorized, on the Atlantic, Pacific and Gulf coasts, the Great Lakes and inland waters and in Alaska and insular possessions. ## DOOMED BANDIT BEARS NO GRUDGE AGAINST M'SWIGGIN

Chicago, April 20.—Henry J. Fennekes, midget bandit, who awaits hanging at the Cook county jail as a result of his prosecution for murder by the late Assistant Prosecutor William H. McSwiggin, the gang victim, bears no grudge against the man whose eloquence condemned him to the gallows.

In a letter to State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe, Fennekes expresses sorrow at the young assistant's death and describes him as an "able and upright prosecutor."

"My conviction leaves me with no grudge against Mr. McSwiggin," the letter says. "I am under sentence to die because of the lying police. Mr. McSwiggin did his best to be fair all through the trial."

Prior to the election of officers late today the session was given over to discussion of research and the Pine institute by O. H. L. Wernick, of Pensacola, Fla., and a discussion on mature timber and young growth, these discussions being led by Mr. Stone.

NEGRO TRUSTY RUNS AMUCK; WOUNDS 4

Nashville, Tenn., April 20.—One woman is dying and two men and a baby boy are wounded as the result of a rampage by a maddened negro here today.

The negro, Spencer Thomas, was a trusty at the Tennessee state prison farm where he was serving a 10-year term for murder, but today was unable to suppress growing resentment against a slight reprimand which he received for violating a prison rule.

While in the home of E. B. Holt, prison commissary, Thursday, he seized a huge knife and slashed the throat of Mrs. Holt, stabbed her in the arms and back, and attacked her four-year-old son. The boy was cut fatally in the face, but Mrs. Holt was believed to be dying.

As Thomas ran from the room Martin Hopkins, a guard, attempted to stop him, but the enraged negro slashed at Hopkins with the knife, cutting him on the face. Thomas then set fire to the home of J. F. Neese, manager of the prison dairy, and ran towards the nearby woods.

A bullet from the rifle of a guard stopped him just as he reached the edge of the grove.

Untermyer Raps Decision of U. S. In Food Combine

Washington, April 20.—The government's recent consent decree against the $2,000,000,000 Ward Food Products corporation involved apparent collusion between the department of justice and the federal trade commission to practice gross fraud upon the federal court at Baltimore, Basil M. Manly, director of the people's legislative service, declared in making public a letter from Samuel Untermyer, New York lawyer, attacking the decree.

He says the decree is so framed that the Continental Baking company controlling 106 bakeries, and one of the principals in the proposed food products corporation was exempted from the dissolution decree on the ground that the federal trade commission was investigating it.

"If the officials of the department of justice had read the testimony before the commission and were intent upon doing their duty they would have insisted above all things upon including in the decree the dissolution and disintegration of the Continental Baking corporation instead of dismissing the charge against it," Untermyer said.

"The so-called consent decree is largely a smoke screen behind which the Ward interests will be able to continue their monopolistic operations with greater assurance of safety from attack than ever before."

FARMER, 74, CONVICTED OF MURDERING WIFE

Grayson, Ky., April 20.—(AP)—Jerry Stidham, 74-year-old farmer, was convicted of the murder of his aged wife, Nancy Gilley Stidham, by a Carter county jury today and was sentenced to fifteen years' imprisonment.

Motion for a new trial was made by defense attorneys.

The defense rested its case shortly after noon yesterday and it was given to the jury at 2:45 o'clock. At 4 o'clock the jury announced that it had failed to agree. George Knowlton, 75, for conviction. Judge Thomas Thobald then adjourned court and ordered the jury to resume deliberation this morning at 10 o'clock. The verdict was returned an hour after court convened. The convicted man appeared unmoved when the verdict was read.

AMERICAN BANKER IS ROBBED IN PARIS

(Copyright, 1926, by The Constitution and the Chicago Tribune.)

Paris, April 20.—Returning to Hotel de France at Choiseul after the disaster last night, George Knowlton, a banker from Watertown, Conn., traveling with his wife, found that their luggage had been rifled and jewelry valued at $5,000 francs had been taken.

FIVE OFFERS MADE TO AID VANDERBILT

New York, April 20.—(AP)—Five offers were made today to assist Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., in raising $300,000, which he said was needed to avert the crash of his chain of newspapers in Los Angeles, San Francisco and Miami, Fla., Dudley Field Malone, his legal adviser, announced.

One offer was for the purchase of an unnamed Vanderbilt paper for $1,000,000, Mr. Malone said. He did not reveal the identity of the would-be purchaser, or of the four others who offered financial assistance. The offers are being investigated, he said.

The 28-year-old publisher, heir to a part of the Vanderbilt millions, announced that a meeting of the stockholders in his enterprises would be recalled as soon as possible after 30-day notices have been delivered for the purpose of electing a new board of directors.

In a statement yesterday by Mr. Malone who, with Clarence Darrow, has been retained as Vanderbilt's adviser in the present financial crisis, it was revealed that the Vanderbilt family, after investing more than $1,000,000 in the corporation had refused further support.

Macon, Ga., April 20.—(AP)—The Georgia grand chapter, Royal Arch Masons, ended its annual meeting here today with a report of Grand Secretary E. A. McHan, of Macon, that the membership in the state now numbers 18,516, with 885 new members in the past year.

MASONS TO BUILD ADDITION AT ALTO

Among finance committee recommendations approved overwhelmingly by vote of the members were four major projects:

Appropriation of $12,500 toward the establishment of an addition to the state tubercular sanatorium at Alto, with a capacity of 40 beds for the treatment of children; $5,000 for the establishment of a woodworking plant in the Masonic home for orphans here, to be known as the "Royal Arch craft shop," increasing the educational fund from $1,500 to $3,300, and increasing the amount to the construction of the state Masonic headquarters here from $7,500 to $12,500.

A past grand high priest jewel was presented to William A. Sims, of Atlanta, the retiring officer, in the closing ceremony, by Dr. Joe P. Bowdoin.

Klan Aids Negro Church.

Bainbridge, Ga., April 20.—(Special.)—Negroes of Nelson chapel, A. M. E. church, were presented with a $40 purse at a recent service by the Bainbridge Ku Klux Klan in response to a call for aid in remodeling the church.

The Klan representatives, about 50 strong, it is said, appeared in uniform. The purse was given with a letter from the Klan expressing gratitude for the opportunity of assisting in the construction work of the edifice and in cooperating with the good negro citizenry of Bainbridge.

Fight Over Farm Relief And Civil War Pensions May Delay Adjournment

Eleven Measures Now on Privileged Status for Action by Congress Before Adjournment.

Washington, April 20.—(AP)—Adjournment of congress was placed measurably into the future today with the action of the senate republican steering committee in giving privileged status to seven major measures in addition to the four now on the preferential calendar.

Two of these—increased pensions for civil war veterans and farm relief legislation—are certain to provoke fights on the floor and in their final form may run counter to the views of President Coolidge.

So far as the senate is concerned the situation is likely to be further complicated by the presentation of the French war debt settlement agreed upon today.

Ratification of this settlement will be resisted strenuously by a group of republican and democratic senators who will demand full discussion of this, the second largest of the war debt agreements.

Another highly controverted measure upon which the steering committee took no action is the bill to lease Muscle Shoals to the Associated Southern Power companies. A motion to refer this bill to the agriculture committee will be taken up tomorrow with the prospect of a bitter fight.

Farm relief was given first place on the secondary preferential list approved by the steering committee. After that comes the game refuge bill with the other five following in this order:

The truth in fabric bill, the measure for refunding government loans to the railroads, civil war pensions; civil retirement and French spoliation claims.

First in the preferential list is the pending $105,000,000 public buildings, the railroad labor and the McFadden branch banking bills and the measure for reorganization of the army air service.

Before the steering committee met the pension committee voted a favorable report of the civil war pensions bill proposing an increase of pensions for veterans and widows in the aggregate of $53,000,000 annually.

President Coolidge previously had made known to the committee his desire that pension legislation carry provisions for raising the required revenue in view of an estimated treasury deficit of $21,000,000 for next year. No such provisions were incorporated.

Under the terms of this bill the minimum pensions for veterans would be increased from $50 to $72 a month with $60 for veterans completely helpless or totally blind. There also would be an increase of $10 a month for widows who have reached the age of 70 years.

CALCUTTA QUIET AS FIGHTING ENDS

BY A. ELLINGS.
Copyright, 1926, by The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.
Calcutta, India, April 29.—After paralyzing for seven days the business life of the second city of the British empire, inducing a state of panic among the Indian citizens, the wave of Hindu-Muslim communal hatred, with its terrible record of bloodshed, apparently has passed and Calcutta is resuming a normal aspect.
The latest outbreak really was a re-emergence of the earlier Easter week rioting, which originated by the Hindu-Muslims outside of a Mohammedan mosque while the Muslims were praying. The casualties numbered 50 killed and 500 wounded. Calcutta was restored, but the smoldering fires of hatred remained. They were fanned into flame Thursday last week as a result of a drunken brawl in the northern part of the city.
Fearing trouble, the local shopkeepers closed. This was the signal for a general panic and a renewal of savagery. The rival mobs organized and armed with every conceivable weapon, attacked the mosques and temples, looted and murdered. Innocent pedestrians were struck down and hurled to death with knives and beaten with sticks by the religious mobs.
The overworked police force had the greatest difficulty in the maintenance of order. The rioting continued daily, mostly individual assaults and outrages by the hoodlum element, who took full advantage of the comparative helplessness of the inadequate police force.

Mayor Sims Places Doughnut Order In Drive To Raise Girl Scout Fund

Mayor Walter A. Sims, shown above, as he "samples" a doughnut before placing the first order with Girl Scouts in a week's campaign of doughnut selling to raise funds with which to finance a summer camp for Girl Scouts. Thousands of Atlantans will be called upon this week to place orders for doughnuts which Stone bakery is giving to the girls.

Mayor Walter A. Sims Thursday placed the first order for doughnuts, which are to be sold in a campaign to continue through next Friday by nearly 450 Camp Fire girls in the Atlanta territory. The purpose of the sale of doughnuts is to raise funds to finance a summer camp for the organization. Atlanta is expected to buy miles and miles of doughnuts to make this possible, Miss Mildred Cole, office secretary of the organization, states. Stone's bakery has agreed to furnish all doughnuts the girls can sell in the time allotted. A grand rush to carry the doughnut drive into all sections of the city and to place orders for several thousand dollars' worth of them was launched Thursday morning.

The girls will wage a relentless campaign until funds are provided to establish a permanent summer camp for the organization. Mayor Sims and other city officials have joined in supporting the organization.
It will take 1,320 doughnuts to make a mile, and the objective of the girls during the drive will be to sell a mile of doughnuts for every mile of paving in the city. May 9 will be known official "Doughnut Day" and thousands of Atlantans at this time will receive the doughnuts for which they placed orders during the preceding week.

Orders can be given to any Camp Fire girl or at headquarters of the organization, 244 Wynne-Claughton building, telephone Walnut 3577.

Clemency Sought For J.D. Batchelor Ten Jurors Sign

Macon, Ga., April 29.—(AP)—Clemency for John D. Batchelor, sentenced to die in the electric chair May 7, will be asked by 11 of the jurors who tried the case in Jones county, according to Judge Joseph E. Pottle, counsel for the defense.

Judge Pottle said that he already had signatures of 10 men on the jury and that he expected to have the eleventh some time tomorrow. The twelfth member of the jury will probably not sign, according to the lawyer. After the 11 names have been secured Judge Pottle will present the petition to Solicitor Joe B. Duke and Judge James B. Park, of the Ocmulgee circuit.
The plea for clemency will be filed with the prison commission not later than Saturday, Judge Pottle said. After the petition is placed in the hands of the prison commission Judge Pottle will ask Governor Walker to grant Batchelor a respite until after the commission can take action.

ITALIAN MONARCH GREETED DELEGATES AT FORESTRY MEET

Rome, April 29.—(AP)—King Victor Emanuel today inaugurated the first world forestry congress with 800 delegates representing 58 nations in attendance.
Giuseppe de Micheli, president of the International Institute of Agriculture, in the inaugural speech emphasized the necessity for an international understanding to protect and increase forestation, the products of which were insufficient to cope with ever-growing needs.
Signor Beltruzzi welcomed the delegates in the name of the government. Premier Mussolini was unable to appear.
Samuel T. Dana, head of the Society of American Foresters, advised closer relations among the foresters of the world. He assured the congress of America's desire to cooperate with the other countries in this respect.

Skinny Frail Folks Speedily Gain Weight

The greatest strength-giver and producer of good healthy flesh in the world is Cod Liver Oil—it's full of vitamins.
But it's nasty stuff—ill-smelling and hard to take, and usually upsets the stomach.
Thank goodness! we don't have to even smell it any more, for now Jacobs' Pharmacy Co. and all druggists are selling McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets, sugar-coated, and as easy to take as candy, so that you can get the real Cod Liver Oil in condensed form and get just the same results as with the horrible smelling liquid.
Men and women, weak, thin and nervous, are urged to put on weight and get back their health and strength with these wonderful tablets.
One woman gained 15 pounds in five weeks and that's going fast enough for anyone.
Only 60 cents for 60 tablets, and if they don't put five pounds of flesh on this thin person in 30 days your druggist is authorized to hand you back the money you paid for it.
"But be sure and get McCoy's, the original and genuine Cod Liver Oil Tablets."—(adv.)

UNIVERSITIES DENY RACE DISCRIMINATION

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

New York, April 29.—Officials of Harvard, Columbia and Brown universities today issued unqualified denials to charges that Jews were discriminated against in those institutions.

John Grier Hibben, president of Princeton university, refused to comment on the charges, holding his institution had no cause to issue a reply.

The charge was made by Adolph Lewisohn and Gustave A. Rogers, leaders in the campaign to raise $1,000,000 for the foundation of the Yeshiva, an institution for higher Jewish learning.

Dispatches from Cambridge quoted Henry Penny-packer, chairman of the committee on admission at Harvard, as saying the charge that university authorities ask preparatory school principals to omit Jews when filling entrance quotas cannot apply to his college because no such quotas are assigned to preparatory schools.

"The only limitation," Mr. Penny-packer said, "is that holding the freshman class to 1,000 in number. No quotas are assigned to schools or racial groups."

Columbia put out an official statement in denying discrimination against the Jews.

Officers at Yale in a terse statement said race did not enter into the requirement for admittance to that institution, adding that a man of any race or creed who had the proper credentials and training was eligible for enrollment.

Grandsons Excluded.
Mr. Lewisohn, speaking at a luncheon at the Banters' club, said his own grandsons had been excluded "by one of the east's biggest universities" and Mr. Rogers asserted that he had been informed through several reliable authoritative sources that this is true. Both charged that several universities, principally in the east, have let it be understood by "prep" school heads that when they fill the quotas assigned them, "they leave the Jews out."

"It is not so much a matter of absolute exclusion as restriction and discrimination," Mr. Rogers said. "Jews themselves are not opposed, but the universities want only the Jews they consider up to their special standards. They are not, but irrelevant Jews who do not follow Jewish doctrines is acceptable but they do not want the pious Jew. Their attitude is not a racial one, in my opinion, but rather a fear of revolt by the Christian student body and the Christian parents."

These institutions, Mr. Rogers said, "wish to bring the number of Jewish students to an irreducible minimum and keep it there," and added that he believed each religious group would have to have its own schools.

ALLEGED LEADER IN WHISKY RAID INDICTED BY JURY

Baltimore, April 29.—(AP)—James M. Geisey today was indicted by the federal grand jury as a leader in the $75,000 whisky raid on the McGinnis distillery at Tannery, Md., last January and the railroading of $30,000 worth of whisky to Baltimore.

The beer charge, United States District Attorney Amos W. W. Woodcock indicated, was the result of undercover investigations carried on since the nation-wide liquor inquiry instituted by the Cleveland grand jury in February. Six negroes were indicted with him.

WILBUR GETS MESSAGE FROM POLAR PARTY

Washington, April 29.—(AP)—Secretary Wilbur received a personal radio message today from Lieutenant Commander Richard E. Byrd saying his Arctic exploration ship Chantier would reach Spitzbergen by tomorrow.

Dill Radio Bill Gets Approval Of Senate Body

Washington, April 29.—(AP)—The Dill radio bill, which would set up an independent commission with complete power over broadcasting, was approved today by the senate interstate commerce committee, with indications pointing to an early favorable report to the senate.

Taken in the face of repeated warnings from President Coolidge against establishment of a separate government agency, the action had the effect of sidetracking the White bill, backed by the administration, providing for an advisory committee to work with the commerce department in controlling the industry. This bill has passed the house.

Meanwhile Secretary Hoover, whose department recently lost in the federal courts the right to assign wave lengths to radio stations, took exception to the statement recently made in congress to the effect that he was attempting to become "dictator" of the radio world.

"It's the last responsibility I want," he asserted.

Hoover Opposes Dictator.
He reiterated his opposition to any plan leaving to any one official the responsibility of determining who shall broadcast and on what wave length, because of the expense and bureaucratic tendencies involved.

These duties, he said, should be placed in a semi-judicial board or commission, as provided in the White bill, and the administrative or enforcement end left to an existing government department.

"So far as the commerce department is concerned," he added, "we have no feeling as to what department does the administering."

In approving the Dill bill the senate committee eliminated a provision for appeals to the courts to compel the issuance of broadcasting licenses or to prevent their revocation, and proposed that the commission have five instead of three members, with salaries of $12,500 each.

The Chicago court decision against the government in its case against a station there for alleged "pirating" of a high wave length has left the broadcasting field of more than 500 stations virtually unregulated. More than that number are clamoring for licenses, but have been placed on a waiting list because there are not enough wave lengths to go round.

U.S. Navy Captain Sued on Charges Of Kidnapping

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)
Chicago, Ill., April 29.—Charging that he was literally "Shanghaied" at the instigation of Captain Waldo Evans, commandant of Great Lakes Naval Training station, when the latter was naval attaché at Pago Pago, Samoa, in 1921, Samuel S. Ripley, of Richmond, Cal., millionaire, today started a suit before Federal Judge Carpenter to recover $50,000 from the officer.

Ripley's bill alleges that Captain Evans and his aide, Lieutenant Commander W. A. McDonald, ordered him aboard the S. S. Sonoma at Pago Pago when they found him on the island without a passport.

Ripley charges that it cost him $500 for passage aboard the steamship back to the United States not to mention the embarrassment and indignity to which he was subjected.

The ship was at sea seven weeks and made frequent stops along the route among the South Sea islands, but he was not permitted to leave it under orders of the naval commander, he charged.

The issue involved in the case, according to Attorney Drucker, representing Ripley, is the plea of the native chiefs of American Samoa for relief from the American naval rule of the islands.

They wish the islands recognized as territorial United States with the same rights accorded them as native citizens under civil jurisdiction as those of any other territorial residents.

Ripley is said to be one-half Samoan and was regarded by the naval authorities as an agitator because he strove for recognition of the rights of his people.

FLOURNOY ESTATE SUIT IS SETTLED

Litigation between administrators of the estate of the late Thomas J. Flournoy and the state of Georgia and Polk county officials was ended abruptly Thursday when a consent verdict was reached by Judge Samuel H. Sibley, of the federal court, northern district of Georgia. Terms of the settlement provide that Georgia shall receive $20,000 inheritance taxes, that $7,000 shall go to Polk county and that attorneys in the case shall be awarded $5,000 fees.

This ends what promised to be one of the hardest fought civil cases in federal courts of this district in many months, and, according to terms of the verdict, the residue of the estate is left clear of all claims of the state and the county involved in the suit.

Mr. Flournoy died September 5, 1925, in Louisville, Ky., where he had made his home for the past 20 years. He formerly was president of a bank at Rockmont, Ga., but at the time of his death it was thought that he was practically penniless, except for property owned in Kentucky. A search of the bank vault, however, revealed more than $1,000,000 in securities wrapped in newspapers, according to reports at the time.

This find resulted in a claim by Polk county and the state for taxes, and these entered a combined suit for the tax money which it was claimed was due on the estate. The suit valued the entire personal property of the deceased banker at approximately $2,000,000, but this was denied by defendants.

The Fidelity and Colonial Trust company, administrator of the Flournoy estate, were defendants in the action brought by J. H. Dozier, state tax collector, and T. E. McBrade, J. C. Porter and D. K. Woodruff, members of the board of roads and revenues of Polk county, and T. W. Schlichte, Polk county tax collector.

These were represented by the law firms of Bann, Trawick & Maddox and Matthews & Owens.

The coming of this company makes four bulk firms located here now, the Standard, the Gulf and the Texas companies also distributing from this point.

Governor Signs 3,300 Documents To Get Pensions

Governor Clifford Walker was busy Thursday on the huge task of signing more than 3,300 documents which must bear his signature before the state can receive money from discount of Western & Atlantic rentals for a period of eight years, for payment of all the overdue Confederate pensions. This discounting of rentals was provided in a bill passed at the recent extra session of the legislature.

It is expected that he will finish this job today and that the money for payment of more than 10,000 Confederate veterans and veterans' widows will be in the hands of the state by Saturday. A complete list of pensioners has been completed by the pension department and turned over to the state treasury and, as soon as the money is received, checks will be drawn for each county's share and mailed to the ordinaries who will then turn the pensions over to the pensioners themselves.

The rentals for the eight-year period were discounted by the Citizens & Southern company, of Atlanta, at a rate of 4.75, which was the lowest unconditional bid submitted.

"AMNESIA" VICTIM TAKEN TO EXPLAIN MISSING POTATOES

Extradition papers from New York for John White, alleged "amnesia" victim, who deluded police here several weeks ago by vivid stories of a fictitious past, were honored at the office of Governor Clifford Walker on Thursday and the youth, who has been confined to Fulton Tower since his "amnesia" story of some weeks ago was taken Thursday night to Suffolk county, New York, to answer to a charge of stealing 70 bushels of potatoes.

White as under indictment here for removing a stolen automobile from one state to another, but federal authorities did not contest his removal to New York to answer the charges facing him there.

White appeared at the Atlanta police station several weeks ago and after an apparent "loss of memory," which lasted for several days, stated that he had come to this city in a locked box car with a mysterious jump on his head and had forgotten his identity. Later he was identified by Fairburn police as a youth who had been arrested there for violation of the motor vehicle law.

White, less romantic than his "amnesia" gradually came to light.

BRITISH COAL MINE DEADLOCK CONTINUES

BY CHARLES M. MCANN.
London, April 29.—Government leaders, coal miners and operators are facing a continued deadlock in negotiations to avert a huge British coal strike which is now only a few hours away.

All England is centering its attention on May 1, ordinarily a day marked by labor demonstrations throughout the world but this year promising to bring the most serious kind of industrial catastrophe to England, which is only now beginning to recover from its post-war industrial slump.

Led by Premier Stanley Baldwin, who has practically abandoned all other governmental duties for more than a week and who has gone from one conference to another in hopes that he may settle the disagreement between miners and operators, leaders of the three forces in the coal mine impasse are determined to work right up until midnight Friday on proposals to avert the nation-wide walk-out.

Government, miners and operators fully realize what may be the results if the strike actually comes.

MISSOURI SOLON
SCORES COOLIDGE

Washington, April 29.—(AP)—President Coolidge and Chairman Butler, of the republican national committee, "forget all principles of decency" in bidding for southern votes of negroes controlled through sale of patronage by members of their race, Representative Bushy, democrat, Mississippi, charged today in the house.

It is for this reason, Mr. Bushy said, that his recent resolution providing for an investigation of patronage conditions in Mississippi was adversely reported by the house judiciary committee. The president and Butler are solely responsible for "rotten conditions" there, he charged.

"They could clean up this situation in a day and shear the perpetrators of their power if they were not afraid of the consequences of such an act when it comes time to nominate another republican candidate for president."

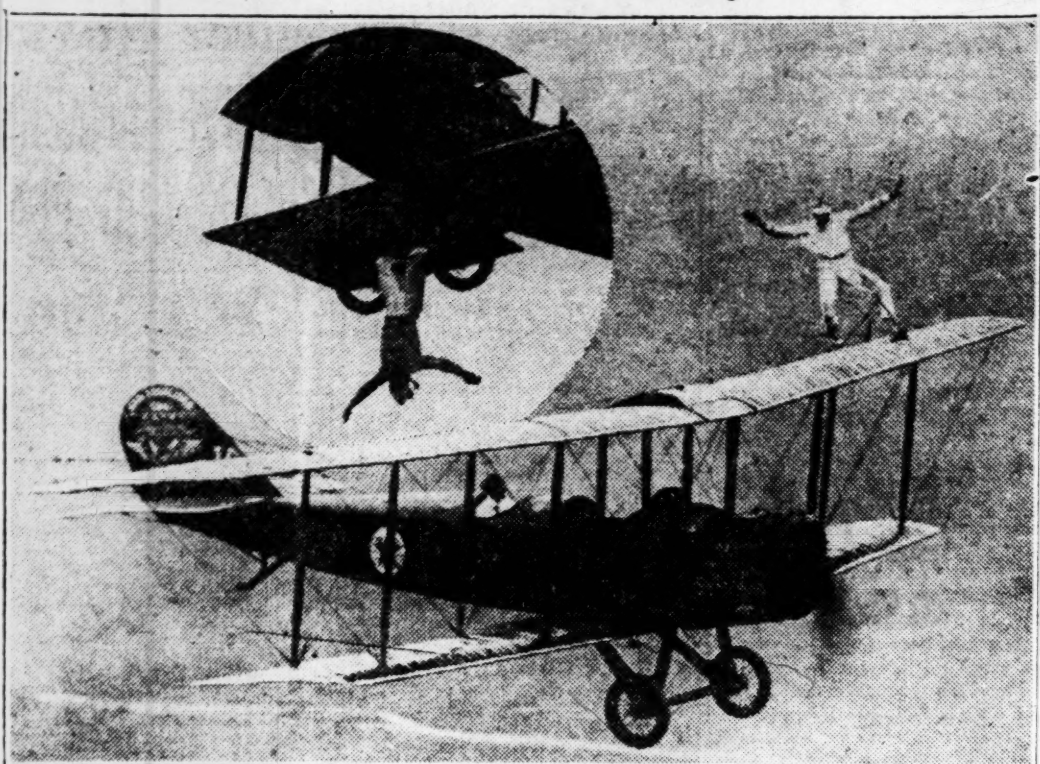

Renewing his charges against Perry W. Howard, negro official of the justice department and republican committeeman for Mississippi, Bushy introduced resolutions calling upon the attorney general and postmaster general to transmit to the house reports of inspectors concerning Howard's activities.

"The national organization teaches the people of the south that the republican party stands for nothing but rotten politics and the disreputable practice of selling patronage and debauching the principles in every conceivable way on which our government was founded," he said.

HARMONY SEEN
AT NORTH CAROLINA
DEMOCRATIC MEET

Raleigh, N. C., April 29.—(AP)—Without a single fight appearing at any juncture of the proceedings, so far at least, as was apparent on the surface, the democratic state convention met here today, heard the keynote speech, and addresses by notables of the party, adopted a platform and some resolutions, unanimously, and adjourned in an atmosphere of complete harmony.

Applause was liberally distributed at various stages of the convention between Governor McLean, who violated precedent by attending, former Governor Cameron Morrison, O. Max Gardner, who referred to himself as a man who was "seriously considering running" for governor two years hence, and the keynote, W. C. Feimster, of Newton.

Guardsmen Sponsor Daring Air Thrills
At Candler Field Saturday and Sunday

Diavolo, chief dare-devil of the Gates Flying Circus, is shown above practicing some of the stunts which he will perform during the air meet which the 122nd infantry, Georgia national guard, will stage at Candler field Saturday and Sunday afternoons.

For the first time in almost ten years Ivan R. Gates, one of America's pioneers of aviation, will make an exhibition flight Saturday afternoon at Candler field at the opening of the two-day air meet which the 122nd infantry, Georgia National Guard, will sponsor.

With the exception of the war period, Gates has devoted sixteen years to commercial aviation. Now his organization ranks as the oldest and largest in the United States, it is

Completion of the program for the air meet calls for a series of neck-breaking stunts by former army air service pilots and Diavolo, chief of the daredevils. The feature stunts will be Diavolo's change from one speeding airplane to another in midair directly over the field.

The remainder of the whirling, whipping, soaring and looping will be by Clyde E. Pangborn, Jack Aschcraft, Buck Steele and the intrepid Diavolo, who will be followed by other members of the organization.

Members of the 122d regiment under Colonel Charles H. Cox, Lieutenant Colonel Eugene Oberdorfer and Captain H. A. Hines, will assemble at the field at noon and be assigned to posts which will encircle the entire field. They will be in charge of selling tickets, taking them, policing the grounds, providing amusements and speedy facilities for automobilists.

Thousands Attend Funeral Of Modern Robin Hood

Ajaccio, Corsica, April 29.—(Copyright, 1932, by United News)—Five fit up the roadside, throughout the Corsican countryside Wednesday night as the rugged men of the mountains and the peasants trooped homeward from the greatest event this island has known since the funeral of Ronce Romanetti, universally styled "the bandit king of the thickets."

Corsica made the funeral the occasion for a holiday. Thousands of mountaineers, who had been befriended by this famous Robin Hood during his sensational life and who are now fearful of outbreaks of guerrilla warfare between the lawless bandits who infest the brush country and the gendarmes, were out in mass at the funeral.

Wednesday night three mountaineers, who resemble the old-time feudists of Kentucky's mountains, spent the night by the fires where they whispered solemn tributes to the bandit king and talked over details of the elaborate funeral which seemed more like that of a king than a wild outlaw of the brush.

Whole Population Attends. The entire population of Ajaccio in addition to hundreds of foreigners and tourists attended the funeral. But the most picturesque figures were sailors from the port and the mountaineers, rugged followers of Romanetti during his years of outlawry. These lieutenants came to his funeral with rifles slung over their shoulders, with revolvers and knives in their belts, and while their women and children wept the mountaineers glared to the right and left as if searching for the killers of their leader.

Romanetti's coffin was carried on the shoulders of his friends. The funeral cortege proceeded slowly from the hospital where the body was taken Tuesday along the road to Calcatoggio, where the bandit was born. Many sought the honor of carrying the dead king to the funeral, and in consequence the coffin changed often from the shoulders of one group to those of another, men who were waiting to carry it. Some had to be content with only touching the bier. There were frequent cries of "Au revoir, Ronce, you shall be revenged!"

Romanetti's body was buried in the family graveyard here, in a weedy plot in the middle of a field surrounded by the thickets which he loved. It overlooks his hideout at Calcatoggio, which has a commanding view of the ocean. A great mass of wild flowers cover the mound, which is under an olive tree. None who came to the funeral failed to bring a flower to place on the grave. The mountaineers carried armfuls of fragrant flowers from the woods where Romanetti had hidden away from his pursuers or his robberies. His immediate family and closest friends placed an elaborate garland of wild flowers at the head of the grave.

Bandit 26 Years Ago. It is 26 years since Romanetti left Calcatoggio by night after slaying his neighbor who accused him of stealing an ox. It was this murder which drove him to the thickets for a life of banditry and of kindness to the poor.

His friends say that the glamor of a bandit's life had worn off for Romanetti long before his death. He often talked of surrendering and ending the nervousness of constantly being on the hunt to the gendarmes, whom he looked on as hounds.

When Campinchi, one of the most famous criminal lawyers in Paris, visited Corsica on a vacation in 1925 Romanetti met him in the mountains and sought his advice. He asked the lawyer to plead for him in the Bastille courts, but when he recounted ten or more murders, Campinchi advised him to stay in the thickets. The possibility of acquittal of all Romanetti's murders was "more hazardous than the thickets," Campinchi declared.

And so Romanetti returned to his career and death in a gun battle.

SOUTHERN STATES
SCORED GAINS

Louisiana—indicate satisfactory progress being made by the small grains. Other features of the agricultural section of the report show: That the Georgia peach crop, hard hit by low temperatures and heavy rains, now stands at 59 per cent of a normal crop.

That in Florida cold, wet, weather delayed planting and germination of seed, and some replanting was necessary.

That truck crop plantings for spring and summer shipment are heavier than usual and are unusually late.

That farm wages have continued to rise during the last year because of labor needs for public improvements and construction work.

That farming operations in Mississippi are considerably later than usual because of the unfavorable weather.

That the condition of the early winter potato crop on April 1 was 70 per cent of normal, as compared with 90 per cent a year ago; and that the condition of Florida citrus crops on April 1 was higher than at the same time last year.

The condition of the 1932 orange crop is estimated by the department of agriculture at 95 per cent of normal, compared with 85 per cent a year ago, and grapefruit is 90 per cent compared with 85 per cent last year, while the tangerine condition is reported as 92 per cent as compared with 86 per cent a year ago.

Cotton Receipts Fall Off. Cotton receipts at the principal cities in the sixth district showed a slight falling off as compared with February, as did figures for stocks of cotton on hand, the comparative figures for the main centers being:

Receipts, March, 1932	Feb., 1932
New Orleans	1,187,734
Mobile	11,891
Savannah	13,787
Augusta	13,786
Atlanta	13,708
Montgomery	3,835
Stocks (ditto)	(ditto)
New Orleans	3,947,700
Mobile	16,796
Savannah	12,711
Augusta	76,697
Montgomery	19,551
Atlanta	45,188

Weather conditions during the last three weeks of March in the Louisiana cane belt were unfavorable and interfered greatly with planting and operations were virtually suspended during that period. The rainfall in March in Louisiana totaled 16 inches, a record for March in that section. Conditions were greatly improved the first week of April, however, and planters were able to resume work.

Savings deposits at the end of March this year as reported to the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta by 91 member banks which operate savings departments, were one-half of 1 per cent greater than a month earlier, and 14 per cent larger than at the end of March last year. Birmingham, Jacksonville, Nashville, New Orleans and other reporting cities showed increases in savings deposits over February, except Atlanta, which had a decrease of three-tenths of 1 per cent during the month reported. All cities, however, including Atlanta, showed increases in savings deposits over March of 1931.

Another feature of the financial report is that it is indicated that the clock is becoming more and more the medium for the transaction of individual business, 24 reporting cities in the district reporting increases in commercial accounts.

Increases in loans, discounts and investments, as well as in time deposits, are shown in the weekly report of the conditions of 38 member banks in Atlanta, New Orleans, Birmingham, Jacksonville, Nashville, Knoxville, Chattanooga and Savannah for April 7, compared with figures four weeks earlier. Compared with figures for corresponding report dates a year ago, figures for April 7 this year show an increase in the total of loans and discounts by these 38 banks of $47,390,000.

Others features of the March report follow:

March, 1932, imports showed an increase of $70,000,000 over February, 1932.

New Orleans imported $20,782,355 worth of merchandise during March.

New Orleans exported $44,761,406 of commodities during that month.

March building permits of 20 cities in the district showed an increase of 25.5 per cent over February.

Production of lumber fell 12 to 13 per cent below normal.

A larger quantity of cotton was consumed in March this year than for any month since 1919.

Production of coal in the coal-producing states of the district showed a slight decrease, while the production of pig iron was substantially higher.

Naval stores registered seasonal declines in receipts at Savannah, Jacksonville and Pensacola.

FRENCH DEBT
AGREEMENT REACHED

by the commission which was taken as a gesture toward congress.

In view of the enormous burden of the domestic debt of France, the difficulty of raising by taxation a sufficient revenue to meet the charges of this debt, to carry on the ordinary government operations, and to find the exchange necessary to pay her foreign debt to the United States and to England, the commission believes that this settlement represents a substantially France's capacity to pay.

Unless France is enabled promptly to fix the amount of its obligations abroad so that it may know definitely its commitments and may provide for them in its budget, there might be grave danger of a complete breakdown of French finances. This would be a serious blow to the reestablishment of Europe and would inevitably affect not only the payments now being made to the United States by France, but would seriously curtail the sale by our farmers of our export surplus abroad. It is felt that the settlement meets the requirement of the statute from which the commission's authority is derived that it be just both to our own citizens and to our ally in the war.

The French debt has been dragged through debate in congress off and on for the last five years, and cancellations for liberal terms and cancellation which have been carried on by those inside and out have only added to the fire.

His Obligation. It has been talked about more than any other war obligation, partly because it has been the principal outstanding obligation since the British settlement, partly because of the unsuccessful attempts to settle it, and partly because of the bonds between this country and France as a result of the world war. Much will be said, especially until the funding agreement reaches the floors of congress for ratification, which probably will not be until next session, when there will be an outburst from the same forces which fought approval of the Italian pact.

The total to be funded after the cash payment to adjust the amount to round figures is $4,025,000,000, the commission explained. Of this amount, $3,340,000,000 represents principal, and $685,000,000 the accrued interest to the date of the agreement.

The exact total payments to be received are $3,847,674,104.17, and the present value of these payments on a basis of 4-1-4 per cent is $2,008,122,624, or practically 50 per cent of the debt fund, as compared with the Italian settlement, the commission said.

The annual payments provided are as follows: $30,000,000 for the first two years; $32,500,000 for the next two; $35,000,000 in 1930; $40,000,000 in 1931; $50,000,000 in 1932; $60,000,000 in 1933; $75,000,000 in 1934; $80,000,000 in 1935; $80,000,000 in 1936; $100,000,000 in 1937; $105,000,000 in 1938; $110,000,000 in 1939; $115,000,000 in 1940; $120, 000,000 in 1941, and $125,000,000 thereafter until the 62nd year, when the payment will be $117,674,104.17.

The first proposal of Ambassador Berenger was for initial payments of $25,000,000, graduating to $125,000,000, which was turned down by the American commission principally because of the low payments for the first few years.

The commission thus compares the agreement reached Thursday with the final offer of former finance Minister Caillaux last October:

"The best offer heretofore received from France was made by M. Caillaux in October, last, of $40,000,000 a year for five years, $60,000,000 a year for the next seven years, and $100,000,000 for the succeeding 50 years. M. Caillaux included as the essential element of his proposed settlement a revision clause, called by him a 'safeguard' clause, the effect of which was to relieve France if Germany did not pay reparations. A comparison of the Caillaux offer and the present settlement shows the following:

"1. In the settlement the 'safeguard' clause has been eliminated.

"2. In the first five years Caillaux offered $200,000,000; under the settlement we are to receive $100,000,000. The slightly easier terms for the first five years were made necessary because the present fiscal condition of the French government is less strong than it was at the time of the negotiations last September. Upon the present exchange rates payment of the first annuity of $30,000,000 requires that France shall find $98,200,000 francs. In October, last, a payment of $40,000,000 would have required that France find only $45,700,000 francs.

The lower annuity in dollars represents today a higher annuity in francs than the Caillaux offer.

"4. In the sixth to the tenth year Caillaux offered $300,000,000; the settlement provides for the payment of $305,000,000.

"5. In the eleventh to the fifteenth year Caillaux offered $120,000,000; the settlement requires the payment of $120,000,000.

"6. Caillaux's maximum annuity was $100,000,000, reached after the twelfth year; the maximum annuity in the settlement is $125,000,000, reached after the sixteenth year."

This settlement "substantially completes the work of the commission," the statement said, "there remaining but $295,000,000 unfunded out of a total of $1,012,000,000 war debt."

"Of these $133,000,000 is Russian and $24,000,000 Austrian, which has already been extended by congress for 20 years; $15,000,000 is Jugo-Slavian; $15,000,000 is Greek and $12,000,000 Armenian."

Negotiations for funding the Jugo-Slavian debt are going on now.

BRIAND EXPLAINS
DEBT DETAILS

Paris, April 29.—Pleading for absolute secrecy in French cabinet consideration of the debt to the United States, Premier Aristide Briand explained details of the latest French offer to his colleagues in the government Thursday night.

Briand appealed to the cabinet ministers to withhold discussion of the debt for patriotic reasons. He declared that premature publication of details of the new French offer might wreck the ministry.

It is understood that Briand has called French Ambassador Berenger in Washington asking full details on the American desires and demands. Briand's cable is understood to have been in response to one from Berenger in which the ambassador asked for full authority in handling the debt situation.

They said he had an internal hemorrhage and his left side is paralyzed. An operation has been performed.

Use of U.S. Mail

Washington, April 29.—(AP)—Another scheme for selling land in Florida came under the ban of the post office department today when a fraud order was issued against the Lea Savage Estates, C. A. Allan, Henry H. Rolde, Baldwin Heights and Palmdale Heights, on the ground of misrepresentation, and obtaining money fraudulently through the mails. The operations have been conducted from Chicago.

SOLD FLORIDA LAND IN ILLINOIS.

Chicago, April 29.—(AP)—The Lea Savage Estates, whose use of the mails was forbidden today by the postoffice department, is a Chicago company which has been selling land from two Florida development projects, principally in northern Illinois, postoffice inspectors said today.

Walter Johnson, postal inspector, declared that the company sold lots at Palmdale Heights, near Moore Haven, on Lake Okeechobee, Fla., which were "practically inaccessible because of water" and at Baldwin Heights, near Jacksonville, which were not valuable as city lots.

Kibler &amp; Long Clothes

MOST : FOR : YOUR : MONEY

You Can't Judge
Kibler and Long
Clothes by Price

THE smartness — quality — and value in Kibler & Long Clothes cannot be judged by the low Kibler & Long prices.

We secure decided price advantages through large buying power—we sell only for cash—we depend upon "volume" and mark prices probably closer to cost than any other clothing concern.

The result is—the low Kibler & Long prices give you no idea of the high standard of quality, in materials, workmanship and designing, maintained in the production of every Kibler & Long suit or top coat. See them—by all means—before you buy anywhere!

Are You Nervous? Sleepless?

Orlando, Fla.—"I have been ailing for a couple of years past, during which time I have taken many different medicines for inward weakness but never have taken any medicine that has given me the help Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has. In the last two years I have gone thru a lot of suffering, my back ached and I had other severe pains. My nerves were very bad, I could not sleep and was so weak I had no life at all, but since taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription I am getting along fine. I have gained in weight, my nerves are stronger and I can sleep. I am feeling better and stronger than for a long time past."

secured with the lowest loss of manpower and money.

Other commonwealths have succeeded in such reorganizations and economic efficiencies, and there is no reason why Georgia should not do the same. No matter how expert in knowledge and consecrated to his constituents the commissioner of the department may be he simply cannot deliver values satisfactorily under existing conditions.

The remedy is in the hands of the men in whose behalf the department exists. They can get fuller and more valuable results by electing legislators pledged to reform this essential department and to do it with the aid of the highest expert counsel. When its functions are thus modernized, its branches compactly coordinated, and its personnel effectively deployed and employed, the agriculture of the state will take rank with that of Wisconsin, Michigan and Iowa, where all agricultural work is coordinated along the line of the admirable suggestion of Auditor State.

The debt settlements.

The people of the south can keenly appreciate the conditions,

the feelings and the embarrassments of the French people as they struggle through the aftermath of their unprecedented fight for life and liberty. Among us survive vivid and yet poignant memories of our own life experiences amid the physical and financial wreckage of the war between the states six decades ago.

The extremists' demand that France "come across with a hundred cents to the dollar," or even approximately so, does not represent southern sentiment.

The debts owing to us for war loans by other nations have been amicably and, in some cases, sacrificially settled into definite terms.

That of France remains and it should be settled with grace and without any smell of shyness.

This country could well afford to forgive its entire foreign indebtedness rather than to be placed behind the world in the attitude of a skunk or a shyness. Such a polity would cost it far more than the money involved in the loss.

In the negotiations with France

it has been clearly developed that the two countries are near enough together to enable both to conclude an agreement satisfactory to all.

We may be assured that the debt commission, in its agreement with

Ambassador Berenger Thursday, would have taken no action it did not think to be for the best interest of this country, and it is safe to accept this judgment.

Now that the secretary of the treasury and the debt commission have agreed upon terms with France, it is to be hoped that the question will not become one for political juggling in the senate, and the indications are that it will not be, for up to this time

the senate has properly turned a deaf ear to the leather-lunged senatorial agitators who are using these debt settlements for demagogic appeals in a manner discreditable to them and injurious to their country.

According to the eminent astronomers, this old world is wheeling blind through the universe. This must be a mistake, when so many world reformers are throwing light on the situation.

We are back to the time when the American has nothing to do with the laws but obey 'em and nothing to do with the taxes but pay 'em.

May will please understand that what is called "Spring" is weary of contemplating cloth and paper flowers.

Though France has sent another

shipload of prisoners to Devil's

Island, she is still raising hell about her debts.

It is not the size of the dollar bill that bothers, but how it sizes up against the price mark on what we want.

In student circles the classes seem to divide into hard thinkers and hard drinkers, with the latter in the lead.

They are advertising alligator shoes in Florida, but what does an alligator want with shoes?

From the testimony taken at Washington it is debatable whether the south is solid or liquid.

His opponents are finding that

Tennessee governor something bigger than a Peay-nut politician.

Any mass meeting these days

looks like a joint session of gubernatorial aspirants.

The Upshaw bill to censor the movies is denounced by the producers as a filthy affair.

SIGNED TO WILL

use to discover the valuable Gwinnett signature earlier.

The volume is a confirmatory list of land grants, and the fly leaf reads: "Memorials of lands entered in the auditor's office in Georgia from September 22, 1758, to the 20th of October, 1772. By Grey Elliott, deputy auditor."

Among other valuable signatures found by Miss Blair in the volume are those of eight other governors of the state, all signatures being of great value by reason of their age and the fact that in practically every case there are comparatively few duplicates in existence. Among this list is a signature of John Adam Treutlen, first constitutional governor for the state. Other gubernatorial signatures are those of James Wright, John Houston, John Martin, Josiah Tatnall, Edward Telfair, John Milledge and David Emanuel.

Other valuable signatures found so far by Miss Blair include James H. Andrew, governor pro tem, Benjamin Andrew, president of the executive council, William Ewen, president of the council of safety during the revolutionary war; George Whitfield, who founded the first orphan's home in the world; George Galphin, a famous Indian trader; Lachlan McIntosh, famous revolutionary general; William Candler, ancestor of the present Candler family of Atlanta; Tolson Cuyler, ancestor of the present family of the same name, and Clavi Robson, ancestor of the late Clavi Robson, famous for many years in Georgia political circles until his death a few years ago.

Miss Blair is engaged on a catalogue of the historic volumes in the Georgia archives to be indexed by the signatures in order to discover approximately what the value of these important properties of the state is. It was in the course of this work that she discovered the new Gwinnett signature and the others listed. She estimates that the commercial value of this one volume alone would run well above $100,000.

Miss Blair drew attention to recent criticism of the state of Georgia for her failure to keep an authentic signature of Gwinnett in her archives. She said Thursday that her discovery comes just at the right time to repudiate this criticism.

Charles F. Jenkins, for years president of the Pennsylvania Historical society, has compiled a volume on the life of Button Gwinnett as his contribution to the Philadelphia sesquicentennial being held this year. In treating of Gwinnett he says, referring to the recent sale of the signature in New York:

"There are several sets of signatures (of the Declaration of Independence) awaiting only a Button Gwinnett autograph to complete them. That ought to be done, however, is for some public-spirited citizen, or group of citizens, of the state of Georgia to buy it and present it to the state. It is a sad commentary on the lack of historic interest and public pride that of this man, one of Georgia's signers, and active Revolutionary patriot, the governor of the state and speaker of the assembly, not a single autograph is to be found in the state of Georgia."

That criticism is, of course, unfounded, following Miss Blair's discovery.

NATIONAL HIGHWAY MARKER IS POSTED

Marking of the great interstate national highways, along which modern motorized traffic pours daily from one end of the nation to the other, was in progress Thursday on the Georgia links of this chain of roads. The first of the new national markers on highway No. 41, which enters this state at Chattanooga and comes through Marietta, Atlanta and on down through Macon—known as the Dixie highway—was placed at the famous Henry Grady monument in Atlanta.

The markers, which have been adopted by the federal highway department for uniform use on all interstate highways, are attractive metal signs, shield shaped, in black and gray. The main marker is about two feet high and slightly wider. It has on it the name of the state and, below, the number designating the highway, as for instance "Georgia—U. S. 41." Below the large marker a smaller shield-shaped marker is affixed, showing whether the turn to be taken is right or left. If it be to the right, the small shield bears the single letter "R" and if to the left, the letter "L."

Map Shows Routes.

The national markers are being placed in Georgia by the state highway department and all designated national highways will be specifically designated by these outstanding markers as quickly as possible. The accompanying map shows the national highway which traverses this state. The Dixie highway, national highway No. 41, it will be seen, enters from Tennessee at Fort Oglethorpe, after coming through the city of Chattanooga. It then runs south, passing through Ringgold, Dalton and Calhoun, or by the alternate link through LaFayette, Summerville and Rome. The two links combine into one road then and come through Cartersville, Marietta and Austell into Atlanta. South of Atlanta the highway runs by way of Jonesboro, Griffin, Barnesville and Forsyth into Macon. After leaving Macon it goes by way of Perry, Vienna, Cordele, Ashburn, Tifton and Valdosta to the Florida line, where it continues on through that state by way of Fort Myers.

Another important north and south highway is No. 129, which branches from No. 270, the main Atlanta-Asheville road, at Gainesville, going by way of Athens, Madison, Eatonton, etc., into Macon, where it combines with route No. 41. Route No. 29, coming into the state from Charlotte, N. C., combines with 129 at Athens. Route No. 78 is an east and west route, coming in from Alabama by way of Villa Rica and Douglasville into Atlanta. East of Atlanta it runs by way of Lawrenceville, Winder,

TURNER IS GIVEN SENTENCE OF LIFE

Pikeville, Ky., April 29.—(AP)—William H. Turner, on trial here for the murder of two miners and defrauding an insurance company of $88,000, was given a life imprisonment sentence here today by a jury in the Pike county circuit court.

The jury deliberated three hours and 40 minutes, part of that time last night and the remainder today. Turner was accused of having defrauded the mine of which he was superintendent in order to collect insurance on his own life. Henry Wilson and another miner, never identified, were killed, and when Turner disappeared after the explosion a year ago the unidentified body was believed for a time to be his. The Turner family collected the insurance.

On the stand yesterday Turner said that an Austrian named Paul Tope had engineered the insurance fraud and that the actual explosion took place while he (Turner) had gone for food to a nearby dining room. He said Tope urged him to flee and that he wandered around the country, finally going to Europe. The state claimed it had never been able to find anyone who knew Tope.

Frohsin's 40th Birthday Is Observed at Big Sale

Marked tribute was paid to the standing and reputation of Frohsin's Thursday when a huge crowd of people came near fighting their way into the celebration of the fortieth anniversary sale of this popular business house. This, the first anniversary sale ever conducted by Frohsin, will stand out in the mercantile history of that firm as one of its greatest days, according to those who witnessed the unique event.

Although two policemen were on hand to preserve order there was no trouble of any kind. The Frohsin sales force worked tirelessly to see that each person in the huge crowds was given personal attention during the sale. Much color and animation featured the event as the store was filled with the bright-hued dresses for the summer and many of the women in the crowd were gowned in bright-colored gowns, leading to the scene a picturesque air of gaiety. The crowd moved around the pretty store in high, good humor and apparently enjoyed the event to the utmost.

Frohsin's is one of Atlanta's oldest stores and its slogan, "Correct Dress for Women," is a sterling trademark here. The store was loaded with fresh, new dresses, coats, hats and undergarments and they fairly walked away before the avalanche of buyers when the sale opened Thursday.

There is no doubt that Frohsin's has stood the test of time in serving Atlanta, as was attested by the presence of the eager crowd of women buyers who stormed the store Thursday and purchased their summer needs in wearing apparel.

While the stock was somewhat depleted by the sale, arrangements had been made to replenish the store with fresh, new garments of the latest styles and hues. The sale is expected to be a short affair, according to officials of the company, as the stock was moving rapidly all day.

17-YEAR-OLD BOY
SENTENCED HERE IN LIQUOR CASE

Justice was tempered with mercy again Thursday when Judge Robert Erwin, of Birmingham, presiding over the criminal division of the federal court, northern district of Georgia, accepted the recommendation of a trial jury and sentenced Russell Roberts, 17-year-old Hall county youth, to serve six months on probation following his conviction on charges of violation of the national prohibition law.

The jury found Roberts guilty, and, as the prisoner stood in the courtroom, clad in blue overalls, with a glance of fear gleaming in his eyes, the foreman read: "We recommend him to the mercy of the court."

"I will be merciful on account of the extreme youth of the defendant, and because I believe he was used as a tool," Judge Erwin declared, "but if I had those before me who have influenced this boy to violate the laws of the nation I would give them the limit of the law."

TIGERS MEET GEORGIA NINE IN TWO GAMES

BY MARCUS BRYANT.

Athens, Ga., April 29.—(Special.)—Tomorrow afternoon the Georgia Bulldogs and Auburn Tigers meet here in the opening of a two-game series, the final to be played Saturday. Upon this series hinges hopes for the Red and Black for the conference title, the Bulldogs needing wins in both games to stay in the race.

In a series earlier this season the Bulldogs lost, 6 to 2, when Jack Waller was afforded poor support. The second game was rained out. It might be interesting to add that the Tigers are the only conference team to beat the Bulldogs this season.

Coach White is expected to send Jack Waller against the Tigers tomorrow, leaving "Shaky" Kain, Emmett Tully and "Lefty" Stewart available for service in Saturday's tilt. White is expected to favor the Red and Black from the rifle pit in tomorrow's engagement, with Potter or Montion to be used Saturday.

The Auburn series is next to the last series of the year here for the Bulldogs, as they play Tech here Friday and Saturday next week in the elusive game for Athens.

Added to the list of sporting events for Bulldog fans for this week is the journey to the swimming pool at Atlanta Saturday for a meet with the Tech tankers. The track team meets the Auburn cinder team in Auburn Saturday.

MY LIFE IN SPORTS

BY CHARLES HOFF

(Copyright, 1926, by The Constitution and the North American Newspaper Alliance.)

CHAPTER XVIII.

It seems to me that no present-day athlete has such a wonderful future before him as the young Swedish athlete, Sten Petersson, who has already shown phenomenal ability. This young man is working in a bank in Stockholm and can train only in the evenings. However, what he has done so far should be applauded by every judge of sports.

Petersson is very tall, about 6 feet 4 inches, and is slim and supple. His bone construction is very fine, and he also is very light. He is perfectly constructed for hurdlings, and he would have no better reason to turn his specialty, if he had not been so much interested in all other athletics.

He is a wonderful all-around athlete, with records of 23 feet in the broad jump, 6 feet 2 in the high jump, 100 meters in 10.6 seconds, 200 meters in 22.6 and 400 in 48.1. In the weights he is, of course, not so good, but good enough for an all-around man training for the decathlon.

Has Trained Himself.
In his first years Petersson trained under the direction of Ernie Hjerberg, who is now a coach here in the states. He is expected to favor the Red and Black from the rifle pit in tomorrow's engagement, with Potter or Montion to be used Saturday.

The Auburn series is next to the last series of the year here for the Bulldogs, as they play Tech here Friday and Saturday next week in the elusive game for Athens.

Added to the list of sporting events for Bulldog fans for this week is the journey to the swimming pool at Atlanta Saturday for a meet with the Tech tankers. The track team meets the Auburn cinder team in Auburn Saturday.

WOMAN'S GOLF ASSN. ELECTS 1926 OFFICERS

BY MRS. CLARENCE BRADLEY.

The annual meeting of the Atlanta Woman's Golf association was called Thursday morning to elect officers and arrange the tournament schedule for 1926. Miss Jimmie Pattillo, who served as vice president in 1925, was unanimously elected president for the year.

Sugar and Water.
Sweden has many good athletes at present, for instance, Engdahl, who has made 100 meters in 10.8 seconds, 200 in 21.6, and 400 in 48.1. Lindstrom, who holds the world's record in javelin throwing at more than 60 meters.

But young, smiling Sten Petersson is a head above all the others. Petersson is also rather original; he does not believe much in massage, but he believes in his feet in hot water. He believes the hot water takes the weariness out of his body much better than any massage. Also, before a competition he always drinks a glass of sugar and water, believing that sugar stimulates the muscles enormously; in this he certainly is right.

He trains both on sprints and middle distances. Hurdling is his specialty. He uses the American style in hurdling and he is so simple that he seems to be over the hurdles.

All American athletic experts will enjoy the grace of Petersson's superb body, and American athletes will find a good comrade in him.

Tomorrow: "Style"—The Badge of Champions.

This tournament should be well attended, as the association has over 60 members, and with the enthusiasm displayed at the meeting yesterday morning, the membership of the association should be well over 100 before midseason. The Atlanta Woman's Golf association was founded for the purpose of encouraging golf among the women of Atlanta, and has been most successful since its organization. Any women living in Atlanta, regardless of whether or not they are members of a club, are eligible to join the association and play in all the tournaments sponsored by the association during the year.

The dues are $2 per year, and can be paid on the tee or mailed to Mrs. L. H. Beck, treasurer, 95 Juniper street.

Crackers Defeat Pelicans in Close Game by 8-to-7 Score

Gugliemini Insists On Having 2 Judges For Sullivan Fight

Fighter and Manager Want Commission To Appoint Two Judges If Eddie Hanlon Is Named As Referee of Fight.

Lou Gugliemini is insisting that two judges be appointed by the boxing commission to act with the referee in his bout here next Thursday with Hollis Sullivan, should Eddie Hanlon be named as third man in the ring, Billy Lotz, matchmaker, announced Thursday night.

Hanlon was the referee who gave a decision to Sullivan the last time the featherweights met here and that decision was vehemently protested by Vugy and his manager, Al Walker. Finding many fans backing them in the idea that a faulty decision was rendered, Walker and Gugliemini have demanded that two judges act if Hanlon is given the assignment by the commission.

No referee yet has been named for the fight. The commission will take that matter up later, probably Saturday.

Lotz added that the Gugliemini camp would agree to any other commission referee working alone.

The Sullivan-Gugliemini match shares headline position with a 10-round go between Larry Avera and Dave Eddleman. The latter is a two-fisted welterweight from Charlotte, also under Al Walker's management.

Bluebirds To Play Cedartown Today

Cedartown, Ga., April 29.—(Special.)—Cedartown High school plays University School for boys here Friday and Saturday. C. H. S. has a good record, winning all high school games and losing only to the Oglethorpe freshmen.

SANDLOTTERS TO PLAY AT SPILLER'S

One of the biggest baseball games of the year is booked for Spiller's park Saturday afternoon. The Crackers meet New Orleans in the last tilt of their three-game series on that date at that place, but that isn't the game we are talking about.

The big game, at least from the standpoint of several thousand youngsters, will be between the Biarritz Tigers, managed by Channing Cope, and the Rinkydinks, piloted by Sam Salzman, which will be played as a preliminary to the Cracker engagement.

Gates will open at noon for the sandlot game, and tickets purchased at that time will be good for both games.

BOBBY JONES WINS MATCH ON NEW LINKS

Athens, Ga., April 29.—(AP)—Bobby Jones, former open golf champion, and Grady Black, former Georgia state champion, defeated Gene Cook, present state champion, and Billy Oliver, Piney Woods league champion, three up and two to play in opening the new Athens Country clubhouse here today.

Jones covered the course in 75. Par for the new links is 73.

Miligan Clinches State Championship

Johnson City, Tenn., April 29.—(Special.)—Tobe Edwards' Miligan college nine defeated the University of Tennessee, 16 to 4. "Firecracker" Travis, Fayetteville, Ga., boy, pitched a good game for Miligan. Sunshine Thompson, Stumpy Thompson and Pete Boswell, all Atlanta boys, starred with the stick. This clinches the state championship for Edwards' nine.

N. Y. COMMISH WILL DISCUSS FOR JACK

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.
(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

New York today to buy a few satchels of dictionaries for Gene Tunney, the eminent philologist. Mr. Will Gibson, manager of the same, today called on Tex Rickard to ask him when, if ever, he could arrange for Mr. Tunney to take a few swings at Jack Dempsey's chin or vice versa, as the case may be.

Tunney is now in Los Angeles, taking primary lessons in chest-heaving, eye-rolling, and cap-twiddling preparatory to uplifting those portions of the movie drama which were neglected by such gifted uplifters as Jack Dempsey, Kid McCoy, Bull Terrell, and the rest of the team. Willard, Tunney has been assigned to play the part of the first part in a series of dramas depicting clean, wholesome, boy-and-girl love, and Mr. Gibson says he has already learned to love his art, which is somewhat polygamous, having had many lovers ere now.

Of late, Mr. Tunney has been growing rather staid in the conversational sense, however, so Mr. Gibson said he would just run back to New York and get him a few sturdy Webster's for sparring partners and, incidentally, take a look around Madison Square Garden and the Flatiron building, where the boxing commission cracks its jokes twice a week, to observe the progress of heavyweight matchmaking.

Although Tunney has agreed to fight Dempsey for Tex Rickard and Dempsey has agreed to fight somebody for Tex, it is still a matter of poignant doubt as to whether Tunney will get the match and the financial reward which Red Grange once described as the secondary consideration in the sport business. This reward, even assuming that Dempsey's next opponent is promptly and thoroughly slapped on the gab, or puss, as it is technically called, will amount to at least $175,000, according to Mr. Gibson's own reckoning, so it was natural that Mr. Gibson should devote a few minutes to the proposition, inasmuch as he was in town anyway to recruit a few satchels of dictionaries for Gene Tunney.

Commissioner Farley of the commission, wants the Will's bout; Commissioner Mulvaney stands for it; and Commissioner Brown, recalling the time that the other two voted him out of the chairmanship while he was having an operation, has at last found a chance to make both of the others look unusually comic by refusing to support either.

As a rule, there is a slot in the back door through which such commissions pass out the low-down, but in this case there seems to be no low-down and no slot in the back door. Rickard, of course, wants the Dempsey-Tunney match because he realizes it could draw all the customers in any existing corral and because he further realizes a match involving Will and Dempsey would be somewhat poisonous to the prize-fight business.

Joseph T. Rose, collector of internal revenue of the Atlanta district and custodian of the Federal building, Thursday was in Washington, conferring with officials relative to selection of a successor to the late Ulysses S. Seal, assistant custodian.

BARONS SWAMP BEARS.
Birmingham, Ala., April 29.—The Barons bunched hits with Mobile errors here today to capture the opening game from Mobile, 9 to 3. With the bases full in the third inning, Gillette knocked a home run. Both clubs played miserable baseball, a total of nine errors being recorded. Mobile collected as many hits as the Barons, but failed in the pinches. Stewart was steady with mean on bases.

Seven hundred girls will participate in the meet, it was announced Thursday by officials of the school. The meet will cover practically every sport in which the school has entered this season, and with the large amount of entries in the meet, a big time is predicted by the school officials.

Ninth Inning Rally Brings in Two Runs To Win Over Rivals

Four Safe Hits by Gilbert, Good, Niehaus and Smith Bring Victory To Locals in First Game With New Orleans Here.

Duplicating their performance of Wednesday when they tore into the Mobile Bears and won by a ninth-inning rally, the Crackers Thursday fed the same dose to the New Orleans club on its first visit of the season to Spiller park. The score was 8 to 7.

The victory goes to the credit of Ruel Love in the averages, although he pitched only one inning, but it rightly belongs to Bert Niehoff, whose juggling of pinch hitters and pitchers was accomplished with great skill. No little of it also should be given Rod Murphy, who crashed out two hits, one of them a triple, during his short stay in the natsime, and to Walter Gilbert, who again was the feature of the afternoon with the wilow. He hit safely three times, one of the blows being good for three bases and another for two, and in addition scored one run, another resulting from his last hit of the afternoon when McLaughlin ran for him.

Martina blows up. Joe Martina, who started for the Pelicans, went along nicely for seven innings when he blew up with a loud report and was ejected. He was ejected because he was ejected. Martina and did not last the inning out. Roy, who succeeded him, however, must take the blame for losing the ball game, as the final two runs in the ninth were scored off his delivery.

a Markle pitched a splendid game and probably would have won with something to spare, but he was lifted in the seventh inning to allow Fraser to hit for him. Bayne, who succeeded him, almost tossed off the contest, but he also was lifted after he had pitched the eighth inning and permitted four runs, and Ruel Love stepped into the fracas to put it in the column for the Crackers.

The game was a most entertaining little effort on the part of all present. Mr. Steamboat Johnson had the athletes running around him in threatening circles and he ejected Hollis McLaughlin from the coaching box at third base when Hollis made some sort of a remark about the umpire's judgment of balls and strikes. John Brock also had something to say when he was called out on strikes. McLaughlin went to the first base coaching box in the inning following his ejection with a cigar in his mouth, but he didn't last long. Johnson again batted him out of the box, but reentered in the ninth to allow the pitcher to tie the run for Walter Gilbert.

Pelicans Start.
The game looked like a lost cause from the start of things. With Martina pitching easily seven runs looked good enough to win with several tallies left over. The Pelicans started, as opposing clubs have a habit of doing against the Crackers, by scoring their first run in the first inning. Gardner led off with a hit through Duracher and took third on a single by Hendrick. Gilbert threw out Deal, but Tucker sent a fly to Red Smith in left and Gardner scored after the catch.

Another was added in the second on a double by Dowie and Martina's single. In the fifth Gardner singled and scored on a double by Deal. The Pelicans got busy in earnest in the eighth and scored enough runs, it seemed, to have won the game. Ewoldt started by drawing a base on balls. Dowie attempted to sacrifice, but he was out. Bayne, who threw into center field trying for Ewoldt at second, Ewoldt went to third and scored. When Martina singled, Gardner forced Martina, but Hendrick doubled, scoring Gardner and Dowie. Hendrick scored when Deal singled. Tucker and Strain were victims to end the inning.

In the third the Crackers scored first run on Markle's double and Gilbert's triple. In the seventh with a single and counted on a triple by Murphy, who was batting for Duracher.

Smith Is Hero
The Crackers counted four times in the eighth. Gilbert, first man up, shot a double to left. Hase beat out a hit to first. Good singled, scoring Gilbert. Hase moving to third. Martina here left the game. Niehaus forced Good and almost was doubled at first, but Ewoldt's throw was a trifle wide. Hase scored on the play. Smith doubled, scoring Niehaus. Smith went to third on a sacrifice fly by Niehoff and scored on Murphy's second single hit.

Then came the ninth. Gilbert again led off, this time with a single, and McLaughlin ran for him. Hase laid down a sacrifice, putting McLaughlin on second. Good scored with a single. Niehaus homered a hit off Gardner at short. Red Smith sent a long single to left, scoring Good with the winning run. He returned to the clubhouse every other member of the club met him, patted him on the back, and shook his hand.

The same teams will meet again this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Higher Money Rates Halt Rallies on Stock Market

New York, April 29.—(AP)—Heavy profit-taking and bear selling, coincident with the stiffening of money rates, checked another promising rally in today's stock market. Closing quotations disclosed considerable irregularity, a long list of net gains ranging from 1 to 10 points being counteracted by a smaller number of losses running from 1 to 3 points. Trading was in slightly larger volume than yesterday, the day's sales aggregating 1,468,700 shares.

The calling of $25,000,000 bank loans, presumably in anticipation of a month-end demand for funds, undoubtedly accounted for the marking up of the call money rate from 3 1/4 to 4 per cent. Outside the stock exchange, child interest centered in the renewed weakness of French and Belgian francs, which sold at new record lows of 2.27 and 3.47 cents, respectively, and the brisk demand for sterling, which approached to within a small fraction of gold parity, the highest rate since the war.

Many "shorts" in the market were again driven to cover when a buying demonstration in General Motors, apparently based on the expectation of an extra dividend of $3 on the common stock next month, sent that stock up to a new high record for the year at 135 1/2, but it later slipped back to 132 1/2. A net of 100 shares of the stock, which had been fluctuating between 67 1/2 and 71 1/2, closing at 69 1/2 for a small fractional gain. Mack Trucks closed fractionally lower at 117 1/2, after having been as high as 119 1/2. DuPont, which has large General Motors holdings, sold between 21 1/2 and 22 1/2, closing at 21 1/2.

The new General Electric stock was again actively traded in, touching a new high at $3 1/4 and then falling back to $2. Ford Motors of Canada rallied 10 points on old lot sales. Auburn advanced 2 points and Stutz and Federal 1 each. Glen Alden, Richmond Radiator and Cuno Press also recorded moderate gains. Land Company of Florida and General Baking "A" were heavy.

Shriners Leave For Gainesville Visit Early Today

The red Shrine fox will be a conspicuous sight on the streets of Atlanta this morning, but for only a short time, for at 9 o'clock Atlanta time, a special train will leave the Terminal station for Gainesville, Ga., for a pilgrimage to that oasis, where a big ceremonial session will be held in the afternoon.

Potential Thomas C. Law will be escorted by his divan, the patrol band, chanters, oriental band and the degree team. Many nobles will make the trip in automobiles besides the unattached nobles who will go on the special train.

The Gainesville nobility and citizens have prepared an elaborate program for the day, the city has been decorated and several thousand people are expected to be present to witness the spectacular movement of the uniformed organizations and listen to the concert by the band, chanters and oriental band.

The ceremonial session will be held in Riverside academy in the afternoon and while Shriners are behind closed doors conducting the big class of unregenerates across the hot sands a bridge game for the visiting ladies will be in progress at the golf club.

Following the big street parade there will be a buffet luncheon, and after the ceremonial a big barbecue will be held at the golf club. Dancing on the public square will furnish amusement in the evening, and the special train will leave Gainesville in time to reach Atlanta by midnight, Atlanta time.

Joint observance of "No Accident Day" and "Child Health Day" is set for Saturday of this week, sponsored by the Safety Council, Red Cross, American Legion and other similar organizations of this city.

Mayor Walter A. Sims has issued a proclamation calling upon all Atlantans to join in observing the day here and to endeavor to make it truly a "no accident day."

About 25 city organizations are lending support to the day's program, and Acting Chief of Police E. L. Jett has given instructions that policemen be doubly vigilant during Saturday to prevent accidents.

Miss Jones Weds Mr. Trammell At Quiet Morning Ceremony

Miss Rose Barry Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Harwood Jones, became the bride of Leander Newton Trammell, at a pretty ceremony at 9:30 o'clock Thursday morning at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jones, 339 Ponce de Leon avenue. Dr. Richard Orme Fling, of the North Avenue Presbyterian church, performed the ceremony in the presence of a group of relatives and friends.

Preceding and during the marriage ceremony a beautiful musical program was rendered. Mrs. Horton Askew was in charge of the music.

Lovely Decorations.
The ceremony took place before an improvised altar of palms, with large floor vases of Easter lilies and seven branch candelabra holding white candles.

Throughout the house artistic decorations of flowers were used. Spring flowers in Dresden shades and Easter lilies being beautifully displayed.

The library was decorated with palms, smilax and spring flowers, and in the dining room the decorations were of palms, smilax and coral colored tulips.

Miss Margaret Ruth Campbell, of Wilmington, N. C., a cousin of the bride, was her only attendant.

Mr. Trammell had as his best man George Alderson, of Marietta, Ga. Miss Campbell's dress was fashioned of old ivory Georgette embroidered in pastel shades. She carried an arm bouquet of pastel colored flowers tied with tulle.

Radiant Bride.
The bride entered with her father, Francis Harwood Jones, who gave her in marriage, and at the altar she was met by the groom and his best man. The bride was lovely in her wedding gown of ivory Georgette, embroidered in gold thread and trimmed with lace. She wore a becoming hat of a matching shade, and the accessories of her costume were carried out in the same shade. She carried a beautiful arm bouquet of valley lilies and orchids, tied with a French bow of satin ribbon and showed with lilies of the valley on silver ribbons.

Wedding Breakfast.
Following the ceremony an informal breakfast was served, and assisting Mr. and Mrs. Jones in entertaining the guests were Mrs. Paul Trammell, of Dalton, Ga.; Mrs. Gertrude Campbell, of Wilmington, N. C.; Miss Harriett Noyes and Miss Evelyn Vaughan.

The coffee table had as a central decoration a large plateau of shaded tulips and valley lilies. Silver candlesticks holding white tapers were tied with green tulle and placed at intervals around this lovely central decoration. Miss Harriett Noyes and Miss Evelyn Vaughan presided at the coffee table.

Mrs. Francis Hammond Jones, the bride's mother, was groomed in black chiffon and wore a corsage of orchids.

Mrs. John Isaac Campbell, of Wilmington, N. C., the bride's aunt, wore black chiffon with a corsage of valley lilies.

Mrs. Paul B. Trammell, of Dalton, Ga., was groomed in blue Georgette and her corsage was of pink roses.

Mrs. McAlfee Trammell of Chattanooga, Tenn., wore an embroidered cream basiste gown with corsage of Ophelia roses.

Due to a recent bereavement in both families the wedding was very quiet, with only the relatives and close friends present.

Immediately after the ceremony Mrs. M. Trammell left for an extended trip through the north and Canada.

Distinguished Families.
The bride, who is prominent in North Carolina and other southern states, is originally from North Carolina, and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Hammond Jones, Sr., of 339 Ponce de Leon avenue.

On her mother's side she is a direct descendant of William Brewster and also of the Mumfords, the Porters, the Owens and the Barrys—all prominent in the colonial history of North Carolina and Virginia.

Governor John Owen, the great-grandfather of the bride, was three times elected governor of North Carolina, and in 1839 he acted as president of the whig convention, which met at Harrisburg, Pa., and nominated General William Henry Harrison, for president of the United States.

John Tyler, of Virginia, vice-president, General Owen was at that time nominated vice-president, but declined.

Her great-grandmother was the Honorable Ann Elizabeth Noble, of London, England. Her great-uncle, John Deane Barry, left the University of North Carolina at the outbreak of the civil war, and had the distinction of being the only North Carolinian who entered the war as a private and rose to the rank of brigadier general. The bride's family have long been identified with the Sons of the Cincinnati, the Society of the Mayflower, Colonial Dames and other ancestral societies.

Mr. Trammell is widely connected with a distinguished pioneer family of this state, being the son of the late Paul B. Trammell and Fannie McAlfee, of Dalton, Ga. His father was chairman of the Georgia public service commission and was also a prominent figure in banking circles, being president of the First National bank of Dalton at the time of his death.

His mother was a prominent figure in the Georgia Society of the D. A. R., holding the office of first vice regent at the time of her death.

Mr. Trammell graduated in civil engineering at Georgia Tech in 1923, and is a member of the Chi Phi fraternity. He is connected with the firm of E. V. Camp, constructional engineers, being secretary and treasurer of this firm.

The bride's father is prominent in business circles in the south, being associated with Joel Hunter & Co., accountants.

The out-of-town guests here to attend the wedding were: Dr. and Mrs. John Isaac Campbell and Miss Margaret Campbell, of Wilmington, N. C.; John James Campbell, of Shelbyville, Tenn.; H. N. Smith, of Charlotte, N. C.; Mr. and Mrs. Horton Askew, of Rome, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. Paul B. ### Mrs. Caye Is Hostess At Bridge-Luncheon.

Mrs. W. C. Caye was hostess at a bridge luncheon on Thursday at her apartment on Peachtree street. Luncheon was given for the top score prize and a bottle of French perfume for the consolation. Luncheon was served on the card tables following the game.

The guests list included Mrs. Edwin Hickey, Jr., Miss Marion Dean, Mrs. Eugene Haynes, Mrs. O. H. Jones, Mrs. Carl Ranspook, Mrs. Glenville Giddings, Mrs. Rodney Morrison and Mrs. C. G. Giddings.

This last week's engagement should prove a triumph for the Atlanta girl who wins the elimination contests to be held here the week of May 10. She will serve as the hostess to the "Charleston" company for the Constitution, which sponsors the contest.

The other prizes are attractive enough to interest all girl dancers in Atlanta who can do "The Charleston." Second prize is $100 in gold, third prize is $50 in gold and fourth prize is a three months' pass to the Howland theater. The girls will be judged on personality and appearance as well as on dancing ability. This fact should attract many entries who otherwise would not have tried for the prizes.

So if you are good looking and can do "The Charleston" passably well, you can notify the Howard management today and try for the big prizes. The elimination contests will be held twice daily during the week of May 10 and the finals will be held Saturday night of that week. The audiences will assist the judges in picking the winners.

PROMINENT SPEAKERS AT FRATERNITY MEET

Charleston Starts Dancers On Their Way by May 10th

LITTLE TIME LEFT FOR PRACTICE

The "Charleston dance," in its many intricacies and eccentricities, will almost take over the Howard theater during the week of May 10, when The Constitution-Public Charleston Beauty tournament gets under way. Amusement lovers of Atlanta seem to be in for a real "battle for blood" when the girls meet in the contest for the four big prizes to be awarded, according to all indications developing Thursday.

This contest will carry with it a first prize which should appeal to every girl dancer in Atlanta between the ages of 16 and 25 years who desires to get a real, bona fide engagement at a regular salary with a big New York musical production. The winner in the contest will be given a 12 weeks' contract with John Murray Anderson's new Public production, "Charleston," which will be given its premier in New York the week of June 13 at the Rivoli theater.

In addition to this engagement, the winner will be offered a tour of the country to 12 Public theaters located in New York, Boston, Buffalo, Detroit, Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City, Dallas, Memphis and Atlanta. The tour will end in Atlanta the week of September 5 when the John Murray Anderson production, "Charleston," will be presented at the Howland theater.

This last week's engagement should prove a triumph for the Atlanta girl who wins the elimination contests to be held here the week of May 10. She will serve as the hostess to the "Charleston" company for the Constitution, which sponsors the contest.

ELECTION LISTS CLOSE ON MAY 3

Rome, Ga., April 29.—(AP)—Only three days remain for citizens to qualify to vote in the regular elections of next November and the primaries before that time, G. E. Maddox, chairman of the state democratic executive committee, indicated today.

Mr. Maddox said the law requires that all taxes be paid six months before a regular election. The date for the regular election this year is November 4.

The date for the democratic primary has not been set, but, Mr. Maddox said, under the law governing primaries, only those who are qualified to vote in a regular election may vote in the primaries preceding it. Consequently, he said, only those who have qualified on or before May 3 can participate in the primary and general election.

FERGUSON IS FREED FROM ALL CHARGES

St. Louis, April 29.—(AP)—All remaining criminal charges against Ferguson, president of the defunct Ferguson-McKinney Manufacturing company, were dismissed by Circuit Attorney Sideron today when Ferguson was arraigned on three indictments charging him with making false financial statements to obtain $300,000 bank credit.

The circuit attorney told the court that the state's case against Ferguson had been materially weakened by the recent death of Murray Carleton, financial director of Ferguson-McKinney, who was jointly indicted with Ferguson. Evidence against Carleton, the prosecutor added, "was clear, convincing and convicting."

CONVICT REVOLT FOLLOWS PROBE

Birmingham, Ala., April 29.—(AP)—A disturbance yesterday at the Flat Top convict mine, marked by the throwing of dynamite by prisoners, sent a Jefferson county grand jury to the mine today.

The grand jury is investigating the death of James Knox, a prisoner, who died in 1924. Revelation of questionable treatment of him and other prisoners brought on the investigation.

News of the latest disturbance was developed in testimony of convicts before the grand jury.

Reports from the mine were that prisoners drove out of the camp two "straw bosses," Whittie Freeman and Tom Tucker, after giving them notice that no more of their "inhuman treatment" would be tolerated. None was injured. The two men were immediately transferred to Kilby prison.

Freeman testified before the grand jury on Wednesday, and the disturance today is believed to have grown out of the impression of convicts that conditions at the mine were not being described accurately.

INSTALLMENT LIX.

PADRAIC REVEALS HIS PLAN.

Celia was pressing backward in Padraic's embrace, gently but so strongly that he released her.

"You'll do that, just to please me, won't you, dearest?" he coaxed. They were sitting down again, and once more opposite each other. Celia shook back her hair, looked at him a little curiously, he thought, then out at the swooping, wheeling landscape, which was now lighted, though somewhat uncertainly, by the timid young moon.

Her profile toward him, she said slowly: "I haven't any other gown with me."

Touching the satchel with the tip of her shoe, and without turning her head, she said further:

"All I have with me is in there."

Padraic was utterly disconcerted. He felt that it was trivial, ridiculous, almost base of him to be laying such stress on things so unimportant as clothes and hair, when the woman he loved was at last his, yet he couldn't help it. He simply couldn't bear the thought of showing Celia to Molly for the first time in that orange gown and without her marvelous tresses.

He recalled the line, "Beauty when unadorned is then adorned the most," to reproach him, but then this was not true as applied to his Celia. He recalled many apt sayings, and called himself many hard names, but the fact remained; he was completely miserable at the thought of Molly and Molly's expression when she first glimpsed Celia in that gown and coiffure.

It jumped at him that he hadn't yet seen the hat she wore with her orange costume. He leaned toward her and, touching her hand caressingly, said:

He tried hard to make out the expression of her face.

"Do let me see you with your hat on, dearest."

He was really terrified lest it, too, should be orange, and gave a deep sigh of relief, which the noise of the train covered, when she drew the black velvet headdress from under the squirrel stole and adjusted it gravely for his inspection.

"Charming!" he cried, "quite delightful! It's most awfully becoming."

He lifted her hand and kissed it over and over in his enthusiasm of relief. Now, if they could only manage to do a little shopping in Montreal before Molly came to the hotel where he had wired her he would take Celia.

"But I do think, dearest," he went on, "that the hat is much too pretty for the gown. Frankly, I don't think the gown becomes you. A black gown or a dark blue one would go with your charming hat ever so much better. You don't mind my suggesting it, do you?"

"Not at all," said Celia. "I am used, you see, to having my clothes chosen for me."

He tried hard to make out the expression of her face, over which the admired hat cast a shadow.

"It will be rather fun, I think, doing our first shopping together," he ventured, a little uncertainly.

"O, great fun," assented Celia.

This encouraged him so much, and he was so consoled by thinking of her in black velvet or velveteen—surely they could find a coat and skirt in that material quite easily—that he ventured further.

"Tell me, you queer darling," he smiled, "what did you do with the lovely hair you cut off?"

He was sure that Montreal held a hairdresser skillful enough to prepare her severed locks so that she might wear them until the hair that remained on her head grew long again. Molly could see to that, he knew.

Celia's answer upset him considerably.

"I threw it away," she said.

She was beginning to find lying as easy as Hamlet held it to be.

This was a new sensation to her, as heretofore she had always avoided the least untruth. It made her so very uncomfortable to tell falsehoods.

Now, on the contrary, she seemed to derive a strange pleasure from doing so. She thought it odd, but didn't bother about the whereof of it.

"You threw it away!" Padraic was exclaiming in a voice of mingled reproach and distress. "You threw away what I loved so dearly?"

"Yes," said Celia, and enjoyed this "yes."

"But, dearest, don't you know—didn't you think how I would have treasured it?"

"No," said Celia, and enjoyed even more this "no."

"You are the queerest darling!" cried Padraic, who felt quite cross with her at the moment, and so disappointed in regard to his scheme for adapting her lost hair to her provoking little head that he could have sworn with pleasure.

"I hope you threw it where no one else can find it," he said, rather stiffly.

"I threw it into some water," said Celia. "No one will find it."

It amused her to think that one of his feet was against the satchel wherein it really lay, adorned like a bride, with white satin.

Padraic was looking out of the window in his turn and thinking hard.

"She's really like a child in lots of ways," ran his thoughts. "Perhaps I'd better tell her my whole plan now about her and Molly, and give her time to get over it before we reach Montreal." So he swallowed his disappointment and worry over all that she had done, and jumping up went over and sat beside her.

"Listen, dearest," he said, "I've a confession to make you. Please be sweet to me about it." And again putting one arm round her he began to tell her of his plans about leaving her in Molly's care until her husband should have divorced her for desertion.

Celia listened with her head bent down and her hands folded together in her lap. When he pressed her closer to him at different points in his confession, her shoulders gave so limply to his pressure that he seemed to be embracing a very loose-jointed marionette. He was too much absorbed in the recital of his plans, however, and in emphasizing them so that she would understand his motives to notice this peculiar limpness on her part.

In conclusion he said, very tenderly:

"You see, darling, you're really just a blessed child in some things and so it's my duty to think for you."

At this she lifted her eyes to his face in one of her swift, brief glances, and saw on it a kind, indulgent smile.

"Thank you. You are very good," she said.

Her hands were shaking a little as they lay together on her orange lap. A loud knocking rose above the steady roar of the express. Padraic jumped to his feet.

"Come in!" he cried impatiently.

The porter held the door ajar. "Last call for dinner, sir," he said apologetically.

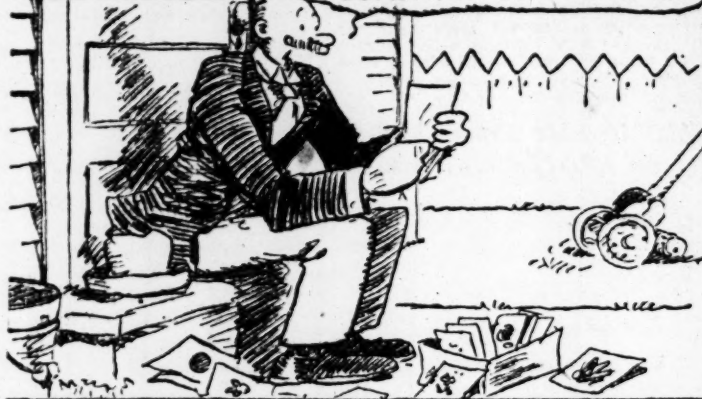

"By George!" exclaimed Padraic. "I'd forgotten all about dinner! Thanks, porter, we'll come at once."

The porter said, "Yes, sir," and was closing the door when Celia called, "Wait, please!"

THERE'S WHAT I CALL A MASTERPIECE—THE FELLOW WHO PAINTED THAT TOMATO SHOULD BE HEADLINED OVER REMBRANDT—LOOKING AT SEED CATALOGUES IS JUST LIKE A VISIT TO THE ART GALLERY—HE PAINTS AN ONION SO NATURAL IT BRINGS TEARS TO YOUR EYES—JUST LOOK AT IT—THIS YEAR I'M GOING TO THROW THE SEEDS AWAY PLANT THE ENVELOPES, SPRAY THEM WITH OIL AND RAISE A CROP OF BEAUTIFUL OIL PAINTINGS

IT'S A GREAT IDEA TO FURNISH COLORED ENVELOPES TO USE AS MONUMENTS FOR THE DEAD SEEDS—IT MAKES IT NICE FOR THE NEIGHBOR'S CHICKENS—WHEN THEY COME TO DINNER IN YOUR GARDEN THEY CAN LOOK OVER THE MENU AND SELECT THE SEEDS THEY LIKE BEST—YOU USE A SPADE TO PLANT THE SEEDS—AT HARVEST TIME YOU TAKE A TEA-SPOON AND DIG UP YOUR CROP—YOU EXPECT TO GROW ROSES AND FIND YOU'RE GROWING PEAS AND ALL KINDS OF VEGETABLES

ADAM HAD ONE OF THE FINEST GARDENS IN THE WORLD AND ALL HE GOT OUT OF IT WAS A CROP OF TROUBLE—WHY SHOULD I DIG AND RAKE AND STOOP OVER SO MUCH THAT I BEGIN TO LOOK LIKE THE HUNCHBACK OF NOTRE DAME TO PROVIDE A LOT OF UNGRATEFUL WORMS WITH NICE VEGETARIAN DINNERS? IF I WANT SHOES I'LL GO TO THE SHOEMAKER—IF I WANT A SUIT I'LL GO TO A TAILOR—IF I WANT VEGETABLES I'LL GO TO A FARMER—JUST PLANTING SEEDS AND HOPING THEY'LL COME UP IS LIKE PLANTING NAPKINS AND EXPECTING A CROP OF TABLE-CLOTHS

TIPPED OFF BY AN ARAB THAT A PASSING BEDOUIN CARAVAN HAD A BEAUTIFUL MAIDEN CAPTIVE, THE BOSS AND MARY DOODLE FEEL SURE THEY ARE NEAR THE END OF THEIR SEARCH FOR THE LOST CAM.

North Boulevard Park

Insurance for the Future of Your Family

A Home Development—the desirability of Which Has Been Proven By the Greatest of All
Tests—That of TIME

ORTH BOULEVARD PARK is not—strictly speaking—a new subdivision.
It has been developed far past its first stages. Streets have been paved, improvements have been installed; it is necessary to offer additional lots as all heretofore offered have been sold and homes built thereon.

THIS NEW UNIT of North Boulevard Park offers a double advantage—that of a time-tested section PLUS the profit made before prices are advanced along with the development.

THE PROPERTY is adjoining Piedmont
Park, a beautiful recreation and playground, affording such pleasures and privileges as:

New Swimming Pool and Bath House being built at a cost of $50,000.
Tennis Courts—Baseball Grounds—
Golf Course.

CONVENIENT to the Boys' New High School and Virginia Avenue Grammar School—two blocks from North Boulevard and Orme Circle—take Forrest Ave.-Orme Circle car line.
